Many Big Trees Are Blown Down By Storm's Fury

Streets Are Flooded As Deluge Hits City On Wednesday Evening

HEAVY DAMAGE IS DONE TO STREETS

Felled Trees Block Rural Avenue And Several Other Streets

A terrific rain and wind storm swept through New Castle early Wednesday evening, downing big trees, causing storm sewers to burst with consequent washouts, and as a result of the havoc several thoroughfares were deluged with dirt, stones and rock, causing blockades of street cars and automobiles.

The rain swept down East Washington street hills with great velocity and within a few minutes dirt from hillside streets had covered street car tracks and washed out a ditch near Ray street. The storm delayed operation of street cars temporarily and during the lull in operations auto traffic was stalled.

Rural Avenue Trees Fall

Four trees were bowled over in Rural avenue and one fell in such a manner traffic was blocked. Another tree was swept over at East and North streets and it ruined the windshield and top of an automobile belonging to W. M. Hockenberry, 921 Maryland avenue. Large trees were felled also in Leasure, Highland, McCleary avenue, Blaine street and at other places.

For a time traffic operations on the lower route of the P.-O. Company at Cascade Park was stopped as the result of debris being washed over the tracks. Wires which had been blown down in Neshannock avenue also were quickly repaired. A chimney was damaged and roof ripped open when struck by lightning at Albert and Elizabeth streets.

A storm sewer burst at Wilson and Washington avenues, causing a washout. Quest street was also torn up by a washout and a manhole, blown in Neshannock avenue, was replaced by a policeman. Several cellars of residences in East Long ave-

Urge Conference Of Nation's Best Minds As Farm Relief Aid

Mid-West Governors At Annual Session Of Executives Do Most Talking

Seek Congress Action On Much Needed Farm Relief In Middle-West

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 28—A conference of the country's best minds—economic, financial industrial and agricultural—to consider the existing farm situation and to try to evolve a workable plan of relief, was being considered seriously here today by several Middle West governors who have been most vocal at the annual Governors' Conference in demanding that something be done before winter.

Although the grain belt governors favor strongly the McNary-Haugen Bill, and have severely criticised President Coolidge for vetoing it, they realize that probably another veto awaits the measure when, and if, congress passes it again. It will be reduced in the new congress in December and probably will pass, but even the most ardent McNary-Haugenite admits there is little prospect of passing it over a veto.

Therefore, a casual suggestion thrown out by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, that a conference of the leading figures in the financial, economic, industrial and agricultural world might be helpful, found increasing favor among the Westerners as the Governors' Conference broke up today.

Several of the governors would like to see President Coolidge himself call

Mother Kennedy Questions Tale Of Kidnapping

Mother Of Aimee McPherson Doubts Daughter's Story Of Kidnapping

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Aimee Semple McPherson's story of her Mexican kidnaping came to life again today with the evangelist's mother openly questioning the truth of her daughter's narrative.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the red-haired pastor of Angelus Temple, publicly doubtely the kidnaping story after Mrs. McPherson had ousted her from management of the temple.

"I have never been able to get the truth about the kidnaping of sister," Mrs. Kennedy remarked. "I knew when she was found at Douglas that something was wrong but I've never been able to find out the truth."

These statements of Mrs. Kennedy sent the evangelist into a swoon and today her emotional behavior betrayed her anguish over the widening breach between her mother and herself.

"I am stunned by mother's words," Aimee gasped, "but no matter what anyone says about the kidnaping they cannot change the facts."

The evangelist carefully explained that the ousting of her mother from the temple management had been demanded by the Angelus Temple congregation. "I have had no quarrel with mother," she insisted. "It is the church committee representing the church that is making certain demands on mother. Not me."

A "sinister influence" is responsible for her daughter's present conduct. "Mother" Kennedy declared.

Pollution Of Stream To Stop

Killing Of Fish In Connoquenessing Creek Probed By State

SITUATION IS UP TO FISHERIES HEAD

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG Pa., July 28.—Action to prevent further pollution of the Connoquenessing creek and its restocking to replace fish that have been killed today rests in the hands of Nathan R. Buller, commissioner of fisheries.

Investigation of state officials following the killing of thousands of fish in the stream earlier in this month traced the pollution to discharges from the plant of the Forged Steel Wheel company, Butler.

Result of Accident.

Officials of the company convinced the investigators that the heavy discharges of poisonous liquid had been the result of an accident. The campany filed plans with he state sanitary board which it is believed will neutralize the dischages and prevent a recurrence of the stream pollution.

The board at its meeting yesterday approved the plans submitted but decided to ask the co-operation of the fish commission.

Officials of the commission said today that they will co-operate with the steel company to prevent further pollution and as soon as possible take steps to restock the stream.

Agreement Near Is Belief; Naval Parley Resumed

Believe Chamberlin Statement Will Be Means Of Effecting Settlement

PAVE WAY FOR ADJUSTING ISSUE

Naval Parity Between Great Britain And United States Would Be Lacking

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 28.—As the tripartite naval conference in Geneva resumes, the belief prevails in London today that the way has been opened for adjusting the difficulties between the United States and Great Britain on the question of cruisers and that an agreement for at least four years will be reached.

The basis for this feeling is the statement of Sir Austen Chamberlin in the House of Commons that the British government is willing to make a temporary arrangement about the immediate future of cruiser building, which is interpreted here as meaning that Great Britain offers no objections to the United States building as many large cruisers as Congress will approve between now and 1931, when the whole question of naval strength will be considered.

Under such an agreement the United States would achieve superiority in heavy battle cruisers, while Great Britain would concentrate on building light cruisers which are considered essential for commercial protection.

Naval Parity Lacking

Naval parity between the United States would be lacking during the period of the temporary agreement, although Sir Austen pointed out yesterday, Great Britain won't abandon the principle of maritime equality in perpetuity.

Sir Austen's statement has been endorsed generally by the British press.

The Manchester Guardian today said:

"Security by means of naval defense is largely a matter of money, and since we are no longer the richest nation, we cannot be sure of always having the strongest navy.

"Whether we want to or not, we must rely for our security upon the sagacity of our politicians and their ability to keep us out of war.

"If our politicians cannot already guarantee that under no circumstances will they lead us into war with the United States, we have no business to attend a disarmament conference."

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR PITTSBURGH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 28. — Two trainmen were injured today when the locomotive of the Capital Limited, fast Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train, sideswiped a coal car at the Herron crossing in Allison Park, a suburb, today.

The injured were R. E. Armstrong, engineer, and W. H. Snyder, fireman, both of New Castle, Pa., who received slight lacerations when their engine went into the ditch, followed by the tender.

Two pullman cars were derailed in the accident, but remained upright. The occupants were jarred, but otherwise were uninjured, railroad authorities reported.

Unfit Agents Being Ousted

Housecleaning In Federal Prohibition Service Nears Completion

CIVIL SERVICE TO REGULATE FUTURE

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Housecleaning in the federal prohibition service will be completed before October 1, it was announced at the treasury today.

Federal dry administrators have been notified to survey their personnel and submit to Commissioner J. M. Doran lists of deputies, subordinates and agents they desire to retain.

The weeding out process will eliminate many agents and others from the prohibition machine and probably bring about a considerable reduction of the force. Surveys disclose that a large number of unfit agents are in the service. The treasury is taking advantage of the early application of civil service regulations to get rid of them.

By the time the reorganization is complete Doran will put into effect a new set of regulations governing the conduct on and off duty of prohibition agents. Strict observance of all phases of the federal law will be required in enforcement of the prohibition act, with indiscriminate use of firearms that would endanger life; operation of speakeasies as lures to catch violators and use of extreme third degree methods taboo.

The personnel question has been left largely to administrators. Appointments recommended will be ap-

"Mystery" In Murder Of Prohibition Agent Has Been Cleared Up

Stotler Was Not Shot From Ambush, But By Other Agent

Confession Is Reported In Case After Several Hours' Grilling

(International News Service)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 28.—Learning a week ago that gossip connected his wife's name with that of Hunter R. Stotler, 52, Keyser, W. Va., prohibition agent, R. E. Walters, Hagerstown agent, planned several ways of avenging himself on Stotler before he took the man to a lonely road near Boonsboro, Md., late Tuesday and shot him to death, State's Attorney Harper Ballentine said here today.

Walters broke down and confessed the murder after nearly six hours of grilling, at first steadfastly maintaining that Stotler was shot by bootleggers while the two agents were on a raid.

Planned to Cover Up

Walters told Ballentine that when he first learned of the alleged intimacies he decided to confront Stotler with the charges in public, then shoot him. Later he decided that there was a possibility he could cover up the crime, so he led his victim to a deserted road. There, Walters said, he accused Stotler of the relationships with his wife and shot him to death.

Walters' first story told of a running gun battle with bootleggers, in which Walters himself was wounded. This wound, a minor one, was self-inflicted, Walters confessed.

Walter is being held here without bail on an open charge to await a decision of the coroner's jury, which will hold an inquest tonight.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 28.—Goaded by hate and shame after his wife confessed intimacies with Hunter R. Stotler, 52, regional chief of prohibition agents here, R. E. Walter, special agent, brooded over his wife's admission of guilt for a week before he enticed Stotler to a lonely spot on

WIFE IS INJURED; BOY SLIGHTLY HURT

The time may drag as you do your work, and the hours seem slow going by, but vacation time is a different thing, its then that the time seems to fly. You are hardly started or so it seems, 'till a week has flown with a zip, and you're hardly there 'till you have to begin arranging the homeward bound trip. For with nothing to do one is busy a lot, and the hours click off mighty fast, and ere you seem started to have a good time, the vacation has flitted right past. You wait a long time for that two weeks of rest and you fuss and you fume and you pack, and before you have dragged out your last decent shirt, its time to be starting right back. Oh the hours may drag but vacation time hours, fit past you on wings bright and gay, which leads me to think that my own is soon up, its just ninety today.

Excellent Message By Rev. Ward Long At First Presbyterian

The Rev. Ward Willis Long, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Stockton, Cal., who with his wife and family is visiting Mrs. Long's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burlett of Croton gave a most inspiring and interesting message at the mid-week service Wednesday evening in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Rev. Long chose for his theme "Be of Good Cheer I Have Overcome the World." He stressed the glorious power and triumph of Jesus Christ and told of his great faith of the church becoming victorious in the future more than in the past and the promise of a great future of the church in the history of the world.

During the services Mrs. Long sang two numbers entitled "Fear Ye Not O Israel" by Dudley Buck and "Nothing Satisfies but Jesus" by Mrs. Morris.

Both selections were highly appreciated by the large congregation that was present.

As a preface to his talk Rev. Long gave greetings from the churches of California. He spoke of his own church at Stockton which was the first Protestant church in that community and the First Presbyterian church in the state of California to have its own church building. The present building is now valued at $225,000.

The city of Stockton is located in the San Joaquin valley and was the center of the gold digging days in 1849.

Rev. and Mrs. Long and children will leave Friday morning for Akron O., where they will visit friends before returning to their home.

the conference. But if he is unwilling they believe the idea is feasible without White House support. They realize that the opposition to the McNary-Haugen Bill centers in the great conservative business interests of the East. And they believe that if men of the type of Judge Elbert H. Gary of the U. S. Steel Corporation, Owen D. Young, who collaborated with General Dawes in the formation of the Dawes plan and the most powerful bankers of the East could be got around the same table with spokesmen for the farmers, the Easterners could be convinced of the seriousness of the situation and possibly a constructive program evolved.

"The great industrial states of the East have grown prosperous on the protection afforded them by the existing tariff," said Gov. Adam McMullen of Nebraska. "We don't want to tear it down. All we of the West want is to be brought into the circle of prosperity, which the government has helped to create for industry, for the railroads, for the banks and other great basic economical factors. We want no favors, but equality."

Governor Hamill of Iowa, Governor McMullen of Nebraska, Governor Christensen of Minnesota, Governor Paulen of Kansas, and Governor Sorlie of North Dakota, comprising the farm bloc in the Governors' Conference all expressed interest and approval of Ritchie's conference idea.

They believe if the industrialists and bankers could be got around the same table they could speedily be convinced of the seriousness of the need for immediate action.

"After all," said Governor Hamill, "it's largely a question of educating the East to the situation."

The Governors' Conference stood adjourned today, and the remaining executives embarked from this historic spot this morning for a trip through the upland lake region and to inspect the locks of the Soo. They will scatter to their homes tonight following the days outing.

"MYSTERY" IN MURDER OF PROHIBITION AGENT HAS BEEN CLEARED UP

a highway near Boonsboro, Md., and shot him to death.

This was the story Walters told State's Attorney Harper Ballentine when he broke down after six hours of ceaseless grilling and confessed the murder, Ballentine said today.

Stirred into a rage by the confession by his wife, Walters told Ballentine, he contemplated shooting Stotler in public to avenge himself for what he feared had become public gossip. Then there came to his hate-shocked mind the thought he might kill his enemy and still escape punishment if he took Stotler into a secluded spot in the country, there shooting him and shattering the windshield of his car to give the appearance of a gun battle with bootleggers.

Accordingly, the confession says, Walters took Stotler for a ride, confronted him with the story his wife told him, and shot Stotler as the latter sat in the car. Walters then fired several shots through the windshield to give the appearance of a struggle, cut his own hand on the broken glass and hurried to the outskirts of Hagerstown, where he summoned aid.

Held in jail here to await a coroner's hearing tonight, Walters shows neither fear nor defiance. He does not expect to pay the death penalty for his crime, Ballentine said.

nue were flooded by waters which raced down the hill.

Sections Flooded

In other sections where the volume could not be accepted by sewer intakes, owing to debris, consisting of small limbs covered with foliage, dirt, stones and rocks, the streets were flooded. In the business district immediately after the storm the water was as high as the curb.

The street department force was sent to alleviate the condition early this morning. Telephone and electric light company officials also had a crew of employes repairing lines where the storm, which was accompanied by bolts of lightning, had put service out of commission, though the storm lasted only 15 minutes.

Damage in County

Terrific storm which passed over the city last night did considerable damage as it swept over the Harlansburg road district after leaving the city.

Corn and other crops in the fields were flattened down and probably damaged to a great extent.

At the farm of W. E. Patton two large haystacks were toppled over by the great blast of wind that accompanied the storm. At the Pitzer farm a large tree was blown over on the porch of the home, doing considerable damage; also fell on the electric lines of the district in such a manner as to cut off the electric service beyond that point. The electric company had to send out a force to clear up the situation.

proved by the treasury in most cases, according to officials. Administrators simply are required to continue appointments to men who have made application for examination under the civil service law. Whether or not they have qualified is not considered.

An important result of the reorganization will be a reduction in the force of prohibition agents. Dry "GHQ" has approved the plan of a smaller but better paid force. Several administrators will cut their forces in half and double the pay of those retained.

The result will be a more efficient staff of trained investigators and general raising of standards of the service, officials said.

Drastic changes are to be made in the personnel of the New York city and Buffalo dry squads, a reorganization now being in progress under the orders of Seymour Lowman, of New York to be sworn in Monday as assistant secretary of the treasury.

Recommendations from Administrators Maurice Campbell of New York City, and Andrew McCampbell, of Buffalo, are expected to be submitted to Doran within a few days. It was understood both forces would be reduced in numbers.

The reorganization of the New York force started with the elimination of Administrators Chester P. Mills and Roscoe C. Harper. The new administrators were given broad authority to bring about a general shakeup of the organization.

325 MILLION

THE future growth in population of the United States is worrying scientists. Figuring upon the present basis of population, and taking into consideration the medical success and surgical skill now achieved, they predict there will be more than 325,000,000 people in this country by the year 2000. They wonder if such a multitude can be fed and housed.

This increasing population, point out the savants, demands the conservation of the nation's natural resources and the utilization of much that is now thrown away as waste. They say this country wastes 115,000,000 tons of coal and has a land wastage of $500,000,000 annually. They also deplore that sewage is dumped into rivers and lakes necessitating the expenditure of millions to purify the water, that forests are being slashed down three times as rapidly as they grow, that rivers of oil are wasted.

Though scientists worry, the public is convinced ways will be found to feed and house a population of 325,000,000. The United States has been in the formative stage and, until recently, did not realize the need for conservation. It has looked upon its natural resources as inexhaustible.

It cannot be denied that the conservation situation is bad, although the dawn of a new day is in sight. Undoubtedly by the year 2000 the American people will wish they had started to save earlier. But what is needed now is not painters of gloomy pictures, but industrial leaders and other owners and users of natural resources far sighted enough to see that the minerals and timber they use are too precious to be wasted and that nobody profits from such waste.

Society must not depend too much upon science to produce those synthetic foods and fuels which are expected to save the day when there is over population and underproduction.

POLITICAL IMAGINATION

FORMER Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, is an imaginative man. He seems peculiarly qualified for politics and membership in congress, for these things require the faculty for seeing issues "what ain't."

The latest child of his fertile and startling fancy relates to the 1928 national conventions and presidential campaign. He would name the Democratic candidate before the Republicans nominate theirs and thus "go before the people and catch the imagination of the country upon the issues we make."

Fair, square, simple and easy, as the shell game hawker would say. The election is won if the Democratic party can steal a march on the G. O. P. in the fixing of convention dates and then draft a platform that will catch the voter's imagination. Easier, says Senator Lewis. A platform headliner "from the agricultural section which is so much in need" might be sufficient.

If the Democratic convention acts upon the suggestion of the noted Democrat from Illinois, it will certainly draft into service his prodigious imagination. Conception of such a headliner as he suggests would stagger any other imagination.

The great game of politics isn't played that way any more, Mr. Lewis. Channel swims and transoceanic flights can and do capture the public's imagination, but it has been many a year since a politician or a political issue has turned the trick. Not even the theatrical Roosevelt nor the demagogue Bryan succeeded, though they did not quit after one failure.

Political machines built at great expense of time, labor and money are not thus junked. Nowadays it takes more than an appeal to the imagination to win votes.

FEWER COUNTRY DOCTORS

THE good old country doctor is his "one horse shay" is clattering off down the road to oblivion.

Dr. William Allen Pusey, former president of the American Medical Association, is authority for the statement that in the last decade almost one-third of the small towns in this country have lost some or all of their physicians. Once there were too many for their own good. Now there are too few for the public's good.

There are a number of reasons why the country doctor is vanishing from the modern picture. The high cost of medical education is keeping from the study of medicine the rural students to whom the country must look for its physicians. Few country boys are studying medicine.

Another potent factor is the greater financial return possible in the larger community. City doctors can collect larger fees and more of them than can the country doctor. Urban folk are not less healthy than their country cousins, but they are more solicitous of their health and quicker to obtain medical and surgical treatment.

Doctor Pusey says it remains to be seen whether public health in the country will suffer from the change, but there should be no cause for concern on that score. With good roads and automobiles the city physician can answer urgent calls as promptly if not more so than did the country doctor in his horse and buggy, and the rural resident in his automobile finds the city doctor's office conveniently accessible. And everybody, regardless of residence, has profited from medical and surgical specialization which is only possible in large centers of population.

Perhaps the country doctor is passing because he isn't needed.

The greatest suffering in the world is not half so painful as the fear of facing it.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:19. Sun rises tomorrow 4:53.

A stiff neck and a busy traffic corner often lead to a tragedy.

We notice that the police in Pittsburgh are being razzed quite a bit these days. Want to say right here that you cannot make a policeman out of an upright mollycoddle. No preacher or deacon would make a cop. Policemen are born and not made and they have to be different than those who criticise them. Policemen are as good as the average citizen in spite of what they see the average citizen do and know what he does.

The principal trouble about girls who are easy on the eyes is that they are hard on the pocketbook.

Some day when you want to take a little automobile ride over a good road go to Rochester, Pa. and stop at the Penn-Beaver hotel for lunch or dinner. It is operated by the same company that will operate the Castleton in this city and you will get as fine a meal as can be had anywhere. And the management and all connected with this wonderful little hotel are more than courteous and attentive.

Soon after hope begins to sag in the middle it has a way of dropping at both ends.

A porch swing has some advantages for courting purposes, but you need one hand to scratch mosquito bites.

In that little town of Waynesburg, Green county, where no railroad goes and no street cars roam, 20 citizens built and equipped one of the finest hotels in this part of the state at a cost of to the 20 persons of about half a million dollars. A spirit like that will keep that little place from being a small place before many years. And such a fine hotel. Modern as any New York hotel.

Between soiled shows and soiled books there is no lack of entertainment for the public.

We read where an alligator caused a party of bathers to flee in every direction when it made itself known at a bathing beach in Ohio. We know nothing that will scatter a bathing party quicker even in Florida where they are more or less used to 'gators.

Whether horses ever come back in style for pleasure vehicles probably will depend a whole lot on the trade value of the used ones.

A high French official insists that the debt of France to America is our contribution to the world war. It's a good thing we had a lot of money and men to contribute to help out the folly of Europe. Had we not done so we would be dealing with Germany and no doubt it would be far more satisfactory in a financial way to us. Germany is paying up without a yap.

The junk a fellow accumulates when he is going big never brings much when the crash comes.

Aimee McPherson, red headed female evangelist of Los Angeles, Cal., seems to be having a fight with her mother. Aimee should not scrap with her Ma, because that same Ma knows all about Aimee's kidnapping in Mexico and if she would tell all she knows about Aimee Billy Sunday would soon own the temple in Los Angeles. Aimee should be careful about giving her Ma the air.

Have you roastingeared yet? Neither have we.

Now we are told that dog days are a myth and that dogs are no madder in July and August than at any other time of the year. If that is true will some one explain that "Every dog has it's day" to us?

Lots of fellows sleep late in a noisy hotel only because the bell hop is late getting back from the pants pressers.

There isn't much to life but this:
A baby's smile, a woman's kiss,
A book, a pipe, a fire, a friend,
And just a little cash to spend.

There's good in everything except the "stuff" they're selling now.

Soon there will be so many Paris-New York airplanes hovering over the Atlantic that if it rains the ocean will not even get wet.

TODAY'S STORYETTE.

A colored man went into a ticket office and asked for two round trip tickets to Charleston. The agent knew him and asked him who was going to accompany him on the trip.

"My brother," said the colored man.

"Your brother?" repeated the agent "and where is he?"

"Oh out there in a box; he's dead," answered the colored man.

"Well if he's dead, you don't want a return ticket for him."

"Yes suh," said the colored man. "You see we ain't goin' to bury him in Sha'ston; but we have about 40 kinsfolks down thar and we figured as how it would be cheaper to carry him down to Sha'ston fo' de funer'l service and bring him back than to bring the whole family up here."

Isvestia, Russian newspaper, says Standard Oil pays on both sides of the fence in Russian oil matters.

Standard of New York, another of the happy little octopus family, joins its friend and associate, Vacuum Oil, in gobbling up Russian oil franchises.

Thus one little octopus virtuously denounces bolshevism, keeping faith with its associate in Great Britain.

And another little Standard octopus gets the Russian oil, thus keeping it in the S. O. octopus family.

Isvestia calls that hypocrisy. Here we call it business. The oil is there; we might as well get it.

It may surprise those that dread bolshevism to learn that in dealing with outside capitalists bolshevism keeps its bargain to the letter.

The Rev. Dr. Straton of New York believes in a genuine devil, "going to and fro in the earth, and walking up and down in it," and never compromises with that devil which for him has horns, hoofs, a large, hellish prison blazing with fire and a most vicious disposition.

Dr. Straton sues an atheist that attempted to convert him to atheism, because undoubtedly the devil was back of the preposterous attempt. "Lead us not into temptation," is the prayer of hundreds of millions, and Dr. Straton doesn't propose to be led, especially by an atheist distributing pamphlets.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

LEARNING BRIDGE

I am an assiduous reader of the newspapers and fall for almost any kind of a feature that is popular. I am a good sample of the average man.

I work cross word puzzles until auks enus and ras haunt me in my dreams, to say nothing of gnu and ai, the justly celebrated three-toed sloth, although I have my doubts whether any such animals ever existed outside of a whiskey glass. Still, as getting drunk is not one of my indoor sports, perhaps my zoological acquaintance is limited. I have taken intelligence tests until I know where Kamptchatka is and how to bound Beluchistan, but the last thing I tackled was somebody or other's bridge lessons.

My wife is very fond of bridge and every week or so the house is infested by a number of chattering females and filled with their bridge talk. It seems I ought to know the game.

Of course with a giant brain like mine that should be easy.

Women can play even with their brains. Think of my thundering intellect going down to the grave bridgeless, as it were.

So, in the language of the dentist, I decided to do some bridge work, and right here I wish to state that these dentist advertisements proclaiming painless dentistry may or may not be true, but about painless bridge I have my own notions.

I got me some cards from a man in a store and bought me a newspaper out of my hard-earned salary and laid out the cards and took up Mr. Thingumbob's lessons in Whist.

I read one lesson over twice or three times, and should you inquire what it meant I could only answer in the language of the great Jewish classic, "Don't esk!"

In the first place I never saw a hand like those hands in the lessons.

They tell you when you have the ace and five others to lead out the queen, provided the queen is guarded properly. I never had six cards of one suit and I don't remember ever seeing an ace and a queen consorting together in one hand. I don't think much of the queen's guards also. They look more like pages to me on account of their size. All my cards are fives and sevens with a sprinkling here and there of twos and nines. The blamed lessons never told you what to do with four spots and of these I have a varied collection always.

I have come to the conclusion that my high-brow critics are right and If I am no other kind of a moron at least I am a bridge moron.

What I need is not somebody to tell me whether to play the ace or the king first, but to tell me what to do with a hand full of seven spots.

And then I think that to be an expert bridge player, at least to be an A-1 bridge conversationalist, one should graduate from a medical school and be thoroughly up on post mortems.

Most of the talk comes from ladies and is all about what you should have done and didn't. You should have led out trumps whether you have them or not, and a heart beat is much better than three club leads right in circumference. It makes no difference whether you are out of hearts or not. Lead a heart anyway and don't deceive your partner. Unless you lead hearts he may think you have four or five aces or diamonds.

I have handed the deck to a little child that plays about the house and from the way he handles it I think he may grow up to be a good bridge player.

My private opinion is that to grow up in bridge is about the only way to become a first-class performer.

At least I do not believe you can learn how from reading these lessons in the newspapers.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT BUILT THAT WAY.

Every year the United States Post Office Department should convince the American people that the scheme of American Government was never intended to conduct any enterprise calculated to make money. It used to be said that if the Wells Fargo Express or the Adams Express, or any of the express companies of this Nation were permitted to run the Postal Department of the Nation, they would make an enormous amount of money without increasing the rate by a single penny. The American Railways Express today would be tickled pink if they could operate the Department of Posts for the same prices charged by the Government.

One of the great leaks in the Postal Department is occasioned by the carrying of Government mail for all Departments of Government free. This Government mail may include even the transportation of an automobile. It has in the past, and no end of typewriters. The modification of the Postoffice Department of bookkeeping system charging the cost of government mail to the different Departments for which it is handled, is now advocated by the National Chamber of Commerce, which has headquarters in Washington. It is unquestionably true that if this free service were charged as rendered, the books of the Postoffice Department would come nearer showing a profit than it ever has in the past. It might be possible that the present deficit would be sufficient, if the cost of Department mail were charged to the Departments, to balance the books, of the Postoffice Department.

It will be remembered that when the Postoffice Department was transporting newspapers and periodicals anywhere within the Nation for one cent a pound, that the express companies were eagerly competing for that business. The express companies not only handled the business for a cent a pound, but personally picked up with their wagons the periodicals at the publishers' places of business, and delivered by their wagons the publications to the news vendors' places of business, all included in the one cent a pound charge. It will also be remembered that the Postmaster General and Congress, the Powers that Be, determined that the Postoffice Department was losing an unconscionable amount of money by handling the newspapers and periodicals for a cent a pound, and conceived the scheme of dividing the nation into Zones, and greatly increasing the postal rates upon printed matter. Naturally this means an enormous increase in the profits of the express companies handling the printed matter, for the express companies were mortal,—they have only followed the rate fixed by the Postal Department.

No, the Government Machinery was never intended to conduct any enterprise profitably.

WHAT WOMEN TALK ABOUT

What is it that women talk about
World-over and near-by?
A life that lately has gone out,
A new born baby's cry,
A recipe for making kraut
Or cake or lemon pie.

Or else the neighbor's lusty son
Or daughter turned to shame,
Or some once little noticed one
Now risen up to fame.
When women meet and talk's begun
The topics are the same.

And whether they be fair or plain,
Of low or high degree,
They talk of joy and bitter pain
And men like you and me,
And what from every blot and stain
Sets table linen free.

For human life is swung on all
The joys we gain and lose;
Some man's or woman's rise or fall
Makes up the daily news
With, interspersed, such topics small
As what will whiten shoes.

INDUSTRIALISM

Much has been said in disparagement of American industrialism. A great many well-intentioned idealists have talked for years as though it were generally admitted that industrialism is a curse to modern civilization.

I have heard many a good fellow, nurtured upon the sweetbreads of uplift pamphlets, sigh heartily over his plentiful dinner in a hotel dining-room, and say something like this:

"Oh for the days of the immortal Greeks! There was no industrialism in the Age of Pericles. No smoke from steel mills darkened the skies in the days of anvient Babylon. Industrialism chokes all that is best in men."

Now, I would like to enter a vigorous demurrer to this sort of talk. It's just plain piffle.

The immortal Greeks didn't have factory smoke. But they had slaves. Slaves did for them the work that factories do for us, and did not do it half as well.

The Greeks of the Age of Pericles saw some wonderful sculpture made. But very few of them knew what it was all about. Not only was the worst of the drudgery done by slaves, but the vast majority of the people were dumb, driven cattle. There was a very select aristocracy at the top, and this aristocracy produced the glorious art of Greece, and enjoyed it. If the aristocrats had not had slaves and soldiers and peasants under them to support their luxury, they could not have done these beautiful things.

In our industrial age, we have no Phidias, it is true. But neither do we have innumerable slaves, driven like beasts of burden and cruelly whipped. Whatever beautiful things we find time to produce are widely distributed. The laborer and the clerk can have beauty in their homes, whether they live in New York or in Carson City.

Industrialism makes possible the clean, comfortable life that the average American takes as a matter of course.

It is all right to sigh for the middle ages again, but which of us would like to move his family into a hut, such as the average citizen of those glowing times had to live in? Or, for that matter, which of us would consent to live in one of the castles of the middle ages, without a single bath tub? Intellectual folk may make fun of our American devotion to bath tubs all they please, but bath tubs are mighty convenient appendages of culture. And it's industrialism that makes bath tubs possible.

Bud Stillman And Bride On Honeymoon

Will Board Olympic At New York On August 4 For Trip

(International News Service)

QUEBEC, Que., July 28.—James A. ("Bud") Stillman and his forest bride, the former Lena Wilson, are on their honeymoon, moving to New York by easy stages to board the Olympic on August 4, and, the wedding over, the dense and normal silence has again settled down once more upon the mountains and valleys of St. Maurice at the Stillman estate in Grande Anse.

Mrs. Anne U. Stillman has quite recovered from her one-sided war with photographers and looks upon the scene as a somewhat amusing incident.

"They insisted upon taking pictures during the ceremony would offend local religious prejudices," she said, but although the storm died down in Grande Anse, the incident has amused all Canada.

Oklahoma Pastor May Get Share In $70,000,000 Estate

(International News Service)

DRUMRIGHT, Okla., The Rev. Denton P. Woods, pastor of the Drumright Presbyterian church, may inherit a share in a $70,000,000 Glasgow, Scotland, estate, which includes the world famous Glasgow woolen mills. Sebe Christian, Greek county judge, is on his way to London, and Glasgow, to look up the status of the estate. Known as the McEwan estate, it is said to be one of the largest in Scotland.

Rev. Woods claims to be a direct descendant of the Scotch family. He has partially established his connection as an heir, and believes he will have no trouble in completing his identity in the old country.

Strangers Leave Woman At Hospital

ALTOONA, Pa., July 28.—Seized suddenly with a fit of strangulation while she was talking to her children, Mrs. S. Ethel M. Hart, died on her way to the Altoona hospital yesterday afternoon. Doctors found her neck glands swollen.

A strange man and woman brought Mrs. Hart to the hospital, carried her into the dispensary, and then drove away. A nurse took charge, and a physician found the woman dead.

An undertaker was called at about the same time. It was some time later, and after much telephoning that the name of the woman was learned.

SUDDENLY STRICKEN

SHARON, July 28.—Funeral services will be held in Erie today for Claude Hewitt, 42, who died suddenly from a heart attack while employed in laying a sidewalk in New Castle avenue Tuesday afternoon.

Coroner William McGrath was called and pronounced the death due to a heart attack.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

JUST LIKE A SPONGE

"Hop-o'-My-Thumbs! Hop-o'-My-Thumbs! Do we like it? Shall we let him name us as he pleases? Do we care?" croaked the Frogs to each other, and kept it up so long that Peter grew impatient.

"What are you taking such a while to make up your minds for?" asked he. It is a fine name for you. No creature in the world that I have ever seen can hop so far or so fast, and besides, it really doesn't make any difference whether you like the name or not. I can call you Hop-o'-My-Thumb and you can't help it.

"We can't help it! So he can! We hop the best of all the creatures he has seen!" croaked the chorus again, and each Frog gave a hop to prove it. "He likes the name. What shall we do about it?" The Frogs bobbed their heads and looked at each other in an uncertain way. Peter smiled. What Froggie had said was true—the Frogs were fearful and curious and something else as well—they were vain of their hops and stupid. Each one waited for the other to say something. Then Friend Froggie spoke:

"Take my advice and do nothing," croaked he wisely. "When a two-legs makes up his mind to do a thing that is all there is to it. Nothing will stop him. Besides, just as he says, I think Hop-o'-My-Thumb is a fine name for us. It is new and different!"

"But we belong to the Ranidae family!" objected a feeble croak. "How can we change our name?"

"Rainy day family! Did you say Rainy Day family? Ha! Ha! That's an odd name. Do you come out when it rains" Peter turned to Froggie, and his friend nodded.

"Always," said Froggie. "If there is one thing we love it is moisture, and there is plenty of that in wet weather, you know. The very minute that the first drops fall we are out in the shower, drinking in the rain just as fast and as much as we can!"

"THE VERY MINUTE THE FIRST DROPS FALL WE ARE OUT IN THE SHOWER"

"I should think you would choke!" declared the boy. "How can you swallow the drops quick enough?"

"Glug! Glug! Kerplunk! Two-legs thinks we swallow the drops!" croaked the chorus. "We don't! We can't! We keep our mouths shut! Oh, what a funny two-legs!"

Now it was the boy's turn to be puzzled.

"What do you mean? You said you drank in the rain just as much and as fast as you could, didn't you? How do you drink if you keep your mouth shut?" asked he.

"Very easily, young human," croaked a deep voice and, turning, Peter recognized Great Grandfather Always-Catch-It. "We drink through our skins!"

"Through your skins?" echoed the boy. "Why, you talk like a sponge!"

"You mean I act like a sponge," corrected Great Grandfather Always-Catch-It, and a grin stretched his broad mouth from side to side. "The skin on my body is full of tiny little holes—porous, I think you call it—and not only does it soak in the water but it keeps it for me until I need it. I carry my reservoir on my body. I don't have to build one as you two-legs do. Water means life to us Frogs. That is why we love to be soaking wet. Old as I am—and many are the winters I have seen—there is nothing we would rather do than play leap-frog with the children in a puddle."

Next: "Great Grandfather Always-Catch-It."

It may be all right to take things as they come, but it is just as well to be sure they belong to you.

Dr. H. A. Garfield Says Conferences May Not Be Good

Seventh Annual Institute Of Politics Is Opened At Williamstown

By COLE E. MORGAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., July 28.—"Without pointing the finger at any nation, our own or any other, I dare to say that conferences are now being held which promise anything but fortunate results for the nations." Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, asserted here today in opening the seventh annual session of the Institute of Politics. He added:

"Men of good will and high purpose are striving for that which is good, but their councils are menaced. They are opposed by the sinister attitude of scheming and unworthy men.

"Is good will to prevail or envy, hatred and malice?"

"While the conferees meet and the world waits, brooding fear hovers in the background. We may not be able to affect the immediate result, but at any rate we may know, and knowing, refuse to be deceived."

This declaration was interpreted as having reference directly to the Geneva conference, which for a fortnight has been at an empasse and threatened with disruption.

Asserting that the conference method is the prelude to formal action by legislative bodies and is the characteristic method making, and that with the recent achievements in aviation diminishing time and distance this method of dealing with international affairs will be correspondingly increased, Dr. Garfield warned.

"But unless the conferees are men of good will and unless the object they have in view is altruistic, conferences may prove as inimical to society as conspiracy," he continued.

"The conference at Locarno was actuated by a beneficient purpose. It was in the interest of all nations. But thieves also may confer and nations may employ conferences for good or bad ends. The conference may be conducted behind closed doors or openly. Treaties may be secretly negotiated or openly spread upon the books. But unless citizens are enlightened and informed they may be deceived by open diplomacy as well as by secret treaties."

Pointing out that since the Institute of Politics was established here seven years ago, five similar institutes have been established in other widely scattered sections of the country, Dr. Garfield concluded:

"Through conferences like this and by the painful process which we know as education, the people of the United States are being informed. We understand as we never understood before the motives, ambitions, needs and desires of other peoples."

America's power to produce goods and the consequent necessity to sell that production forms the keynote of this year's institute program, according to Dr. Walter W. McLaren, executive secretary.

Young Stillman And Bride Reach Home In New York

Prepare For Trip Abroad On Olympic; To Sail Sunday Night

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 28.—The honeymooning Stillmans—Bud and his backwoods bride—slipped into New York practically unobserved today and made their way to the Stillman apartment on Park avenue to busy themselves with preparations for their European trip.

They got out of Grande Anse, where the wedding was performed Tuesday, without their schedule being known. The pursuit did not catch up with them at Montreal. And there they caught the train which brought them into Grand Central at 7:50 a. m. today with only a half dozen station employes as a reception committee.

They drove quickly to the Stillman apartment and started packing. The travel trousseau of the bride, who was plain Lena Wilson before the ceremony Tuesday, was waiting at the apartment. There were countless trunks and bags to be packed.

The Stillmans will sail at midnight Sunday on the Olympic for Europe. It is the same liner on which Mr. and Mrs. Stillman, Sr., went on their "second honeymoon" after their reconciliation. It was reported the young couple will have the same suite occupied by the bridegroom's parents on that trip.

POLICE GET REST.

Police last night had a quiet spell and excepting for three persons charged with intoxication the cells were empty.

A fortune awaits some American genius who will find a way to combine aspirin and chewing gum.

Scoutmasters And Assistants Have Enjoyable Picnic

Grove City Crowd Goes To Etna Springs; Other News Of Town

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., July 28.—Grove City scoutmasters and their assistants, wives and families held a picnic and outing at Etna Springs Tuesday. Thirty people attended the picnic, which included swimming, games and an all-around good time. A similar picnic will be held at the Boy Scout camp along the Slippery Rock creek, when the Boy Scout camp opens August 1. The scoutmasters of Grove City are: Scout executive, Foster Jones; Roy Stewart, troop 1; Ralph Cannon, troop 2; Clarence Woods, troop 3; Harold Kuhn, troop 4, and Norman Krill, troop 5.

The annual northwestern tennis tournament which was held at Grove City last year will be held at Oil City the second week in August, is the announcement made by the president of the association, G. G. Forquer of Grove City. An exceptionally large entry list in all departments is expected in the 1927 tournament. Matches will be scheduled in men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles, junior singles. Trophies will be given to winners of all events, including consolation trophies. To help out the committee in charge it is asked that every member of each district acquaint the secretary of his district, at the earliest possible moment, their intention of entering. Grove City has 30 or 40 eligible players and it is hoped that at least 20 of these attend the tournament. A number of ladies have already entered from Grove City.

Grove City College football season will open September 7, when some 50 men report for the two weeks' training before school starts. The camp will not be held at Barmore this year, but the boys will be housed at Memorial and practice on the athletic field. The camp will start a little earlier this year to enable Coach Charles Berry to become acquainted with the men. The following is the schedule for the year: October 1, University of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh; October 8, John Carroll University, at Cleveland; October 15, Juniata College, at Grove City; October 22, Allegheny College, at Grove City; October 29, Adrian College, at Grove City; November 5, Geneva College, at Beaver Falls; November 12, St. Francis College, at Grove City; November 24, Thiel College, at Greenville.

R. B. Campbell, oil business, of Tulsa, Okla., a former student of Grove City in 1898, is visiting his father-in-law, J. A. Van Dyke, of Harrisville, after an absence of 29 years. Mr. Campbell is well known in Grove City and his many friends are very glad to have him with them once more. Mr. Campbell made the trip from Tulsa to Grove City in three days. He reports a wonderful trip, without an accident.

Grove City Boy Scouts and officers will gather at the athletic field this evening, when the awards for the Fourth of July celebration will be presented. A committee composed of delegates from the American Legion and Grove City fire department will present the awards to the winning Scouts. The Scouts of troop 2 and 3 will entertain with a rock cooking demonstration.

Fishing Club Is Off For Canada

Solid Comfort Fishing Club Members Leave; Other News Of Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., July 28.—Since 1878 the year of organization, the Solid Comfort Fishing Club, with the exception of very few years, have been making annual camps each July for one month duration. The 1927 epoch of this itinerary was recorded Wednesday, when 50 ladies and gentlemen left at seven a. m. over the Bessemer route in a special Pullman and baggage cars for their present camp location on the French river in Canada. The club is the oldest in western Pennsylvania at least, if not in the state.

In the party were Dr. and Mrs. Vandergrift and Dr. Jaquish of Pittsburgh; Donald Christie of Harrisburg, C. E. Crinenwett, W. H. Goehring, Dr. Frank Waldron, John Brandon, Mrs. R. B. Miller and children, of Butler, Al. Clifford and George Thorp of Edgewood, Douglas Robinson of Oil City, James McIlvanie, Leo D. McQuiston, Sam McQuiston, Dr. M. O. Boyd, Clarence Sproutt, of Meadville; Dr. Sterrett of Erie, H. S. Porter of Yonkers, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reyer of Sharon, Charles Henry Parker Henry, John Dun, James Warburton of Marietta, O.

The folks from Mercer in the party are: Q. A. Gordon, who is making his 40th trip to Canada as a member of the party, and is the sole survivor of the old-time party that made this trip, which includes the elite of the county bar association; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McClellan and children, Col. W. B. Gordon, Postmaster and Mrs. Dunham Barton, E. S. Ingraham, Farm Agent W. S. Hagar.

The first camp of the Solid Comforts was at Sugar Lake in Crawford county, in 1878. The '79 encampment was in Canada and that of '80 took them to Muskoka Lake, in Canada, where was established a permanent camp where for a number of years the party remained until the drowning of several members, when it was sold and the present location bought.

The raspberry crop in Mercer county is not what it should have been is reported by growers and experts alike. The wet spring, which made impossible the getting into the patches and trimming and cultivating the bushes, contributed toward this crop shortage, states County Farm Agent W. S. Hagar.

The farm bureau office is committed to a campaign of education of berry growers with the idea of increasing the yield of the patches already planted, rather than increasing their number.

It is the belief of the horticulturists that if the proper attention is given to cultivation that the shortage will take care of itself with the increased yield that is expected. The black raspeberries were a very short crop this year. The red veriety, for which there is a greater demand and of which more are grown, are reported to have been a fair crop.

A meeting of the State Tuberculosis Society was held of recent date at Philadelphia, when important action that will have its reflex in Mercer county was taken. The law of 1925 declared constitutional by the state supreme court, the society is now in a position to go to counties where a vote on building of sanitoriums has already been cast and ask that these buildings be constructed. This describes the status of Mercer county, where a ballot was taken several years ago and carried by an overwhelming majority. That officials of the organization will visit Mercer county with this purpose in view, there can be no doubt.

The next meeting of the society will be held in Harrisburg in the fall.

The red letter day of Parole Officer Rev. W. T. K. Thompson of Mercer county in collection of fines was of recent date, when $2,000 in fines was paid him in one day by county bootleggers. The officer is responsible for the collection of fines of paroled bootleggers. The amount paid him in 1926 amounted to over $22,000 in fines and costs.

The collection already made in 1927 would indicate that the total for this year is not going to be far behind this amount. Under the court ruling on the parole of bootleggers these gentry are released when half their prison sentence is served on condition they make payment to the parole officer of their fine and costs of the case.

From the peaceful town of Sandy Lake come many complaints of citizens to the office of the district attorney asking a detective be sent to Sandy Lake and alleging petty larceny and other misdemeanors in the borough at the present time. County Detective Sam Leyshock has visited the borough several times.

In connection with the general election in Mercer county on the date of November 8th, when officials for the county offices will be balloted on along with municipal and township offices, the citizens of the school districts of Grove City and Hempfield townships will be asked to cast a vote making important decisions as to the future status of the schools in these districts.

In Grove City question of a bond issue for the erection of a new school in the east end of the town is up. In Hempfield township the question of the consolidation of the township schools is at stake. Those advocating the new school building in Grove City point out the fact that children are now walking long distances to reach the schools more centrally located. The new building would also relieve the present grade schools.

Search For Two Escaped Convicts

BELLEFONTE, Pa., July 28—Prison authorities and bloodhounds today searched the countryside surrounding Rockview penitentiary for Harvey and Fred Buck, escaped Bradford county prisoners sentenced to serve two to four and four to eight years, respectively, on charges of burglary. Sentence was passed on the two brothers June 21.

B. & O. RAILROAD WILL CELEBRATE

Centenary To Be Observed During Latter Part Of September

Centenary of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, founded in 1827, will be commemorated in the two weeks of September 24-October 8, at Baltimore, Md.

Although the opening date is two months hence, the Hall of Transportation is practically ready for the installation of exhibits.

The Hall of Transportation will be a museum where relics of by gone railroading days will be shown.

Chief in the two weeks celebration will be the drama of transport. Five miles in length, it will move in parade formation around a loop track, with the Iron Horses under their own steam and in proper seaquence. Each type of locomotive will be shown, from the Tiny Tom Thumb of 1829, to the most modern type of locomotive in the world. England will be represented by the new passenger locomotive of the Great Western Railway, the King George V, as well as its North Star of 1837.

President Coolidge has declared that he will be in attendance at the first day of the exhibit. There will be other special days, such as Pennsylvania Day, Maryland Day, and West Virginia Day. No charge will be made for admission to the exhibition.

The grandstand will seat 12,000 people and there will be parking space for 3,000 automobiles on the grounds. Frequent shuttle train service will be available to the grounds, and ample lunch and refreshment facilities will be provided, as well as groves for picnic parties.

"We" Covered By Big Insurance

Lindbergh And Plane Are Well Protected For National Tour

NEW YORK, July 28.—"We" are insured for $150,000.

E. P. Veitch, a broker, revealed today that various policies have been placed on the life of Charles Lindbergh and on his plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, for the duration of the trans-Atlantic flyer's present country-wide tour.

Veitch said that the life insurance branch of his firm was approached by Harry Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, which is sponsoring the Lindbergh tour.

A policy for $25,000 was arranged with one company on Lindbergh's life and policies covering the plane with another. There was a public liability policy for $10,000 to $100,000 and a property damage policy for $10,000.

A $15,000 policy, covering damage to the plane by fire, taken out on Lindbergh's return from France, is still in force.

Lord Astor To Aid British Dry Forces In Biggest Drive

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 28.—The greatest attack on liquor ever made in Great Britain is shortly to be launched by the Temperance Council of the Christian churches, the most powerful temperance organization in the country.

With the active assistance of Lord Astor, husband of Lady Nancy Astor and probably England's most prominent "dry" the Rev. C. Courtney Weeks and other well known temperance reformers, the Council proposes to put up the fiercest fight of its career against the "wets."

The fight will in the main take the form of a nation-wide lecture campaign and as a preliminary to this and with the object of finding out the best possible speakers a sort of "temperance summer school" has been opened at High Leigh a country mansion in Hertfordshire, where budding temperance reformers will be given expert advice on the best way to combat liquor by notable "drys," including Lord Astor.

A program of lectures has been drawn up and every day students will be given lectures on some aspect of the liquor question. They will be taught how to drive home on the public platform the various arguments against drink. They will learn the art of propaganda. They will be shown how to deal with hecklers. Facts and figures to support their case will be supplied them.

Plans will also be discussed for the forthcoming campaign and a definite plan of action drawn up. The students include teetotal lecturers and propaganda campaignists from all parts of Great Britain, together with a great many newcomers. With the closing of the school the campaign against the "wets" will start in earnest.

REALLY "PERMANENT."

PRINCETON, N. J., July 28.—Another professor has challenged the originality of the styles of modern woman. This time it's Professor Shirley H. Weber of Princeton who's been engaged in classifying Princeton's collection of coins. According to the figures on the coins, the professor maintains the permanent wave was popular in the second century of our era. More than that the ancient woman goes the modern girl one better. She accentuated the effect of the waves with jewelry.

Nevada Chemists Find Way To Make Synthetic Rubber

(International News Service)

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 28.—Much interest is displayed here in experiments being made by local chemists in producing synthetic rubber from clay. The material used for these interesting experiments comes from a large deposit of clay about 25 miles from here and which is said to contain all the ingredients for the making of rubber.

The experiment so far has been successful up to the point where several small pieces of rubber have actually been made from this clay. According to the chemists all rubber trees grow in a clay soil and absorb its rubber sap from the clay and the theory that rubber can be made direct from the clay is based upon this alleged fact.

In Day's News

One of the most influential men in England today is a Canadian. He is Lord Beaverbrook, who owns and controls one-fourth of the London newspapers that are classed as great, besides several prominent journals in the provinces. Before he was raised to the peerage some 10 years ago he was Sir Max Aitken. He is the son of a Scotch minister of New Brunswick. Beginning life as an office boy, he first studied law, then went into business, and while still in his early thirties became a millionaire. He entered English public life nearly 20 years ago when he was elected to Parliament. In the early days of the great war he acted as Canadian "eye-witness" at the front and later became minister of propaganda in the British government. Of late years Lord Beaverbrook has been unofficial adviser to men who have filled the highest public offices in Britain, especially Bonar Law, his most intimate friend and also a Canadian by birth.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. McKee's Kut Rate Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

May Seize All Ballots Cast In State Election

Senator Watson Is Polling Committee To Secure Authority

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, acting chairman, today was polling members of the senate privileges and elections committee to obtain authority to seize the ballots in the last Pennsylvania election for a recount by the committee.

Senator-elect Vare, whose election has been challenged by his Democratic opponent, William B. Wilson, has suggested that the elections committee conduct the recount. Pennsylvania leaders have said that no objections would be interposed.

If the procedure is adopted, the elections committee will face a fight with the Reed campaign fund committee which unearthed the expenditure of vast sums in the Pennsylvania primary. The elections committee is regarded as favorable to Vare, while the Reed committee is preparing to fight to prevent him obtaining a seat.

In a statement, Wilson declared that Vare's proposal was intended only to muddy the waters.

"When my contest was presented to the senate it was immediately referred to the committee on privileges and elections," Wilson said. "It will hear all the evidence, including such facts as may be secured by the Reed slush fund committee. That is the reason the Reed committee has been fought at every turn. Its opponents do not want all the facts brought out."

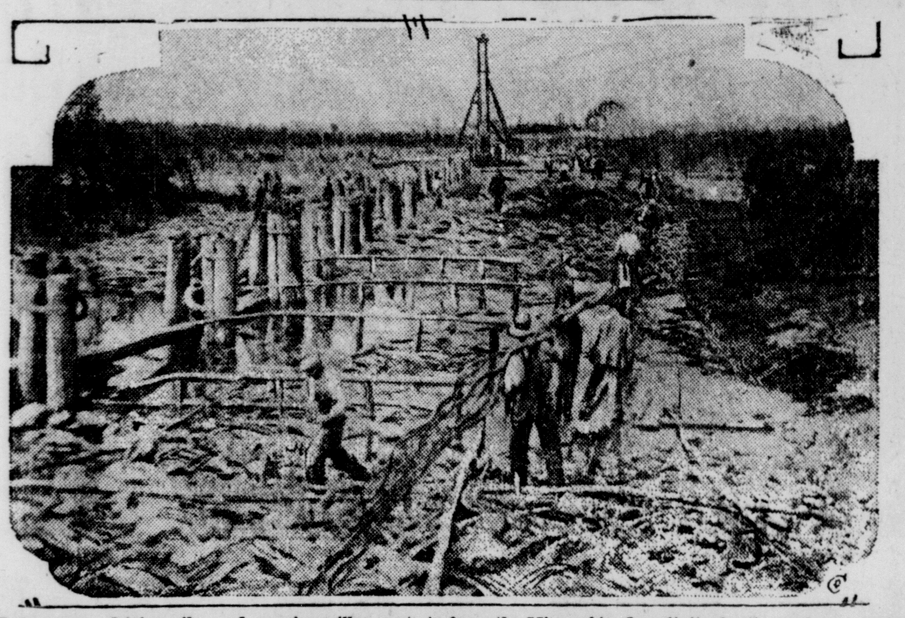
MISSOURI RIVER BEING FORCED AT LAST TO BEHAVE ITSELF



Workmen are driving piles and weaving willow mats to force the Missouri to deposit its fertile sand and build up the backwater area. The picture was taken at Sny bend, near Lexington, Mo., where the river threatened to abandon its present course for a new one.

By J. C. JOHNSEN
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

LEXINGTON, Mo., July 28.—The twirling, twisting and defiant Missouri river, which for centuries has been able to change its course almost at will, playing havoc with thousands of acres of fertile farm lands, at last is feeling the iron grip of force greater than the power of waters.

The government engineers today are directing the work that is making the once mighty and tyrannical Missouri a docile servant, ready to obey the dictates of the masters of commerce and captains of industry and at an estimated cost of approximately $80,000 a mile.

Workmen are harnessing the stream and now are battling to check the surging river from cutting its way through to a new course near here. They rapidly are nearing victory, thus saving thousands of acres of valuable farming lands from devastation from the ravaging waters.

The work is only the beginning of the government's work to tame the "Big Muddy" and make it submit to river navigation.

The work is under the direction of Maj. Gordon R. Young, United States district engineer.

Engineer Explains.

"This shows what our dike system will do," he says, pointing to a large sandbar on the downstream side of the unfinished dike.

"Six weeks ago we drove the first pile and already the river has slowed up enough to deposit this great bar of sand.

"When we have finished our work here we hope to straighten out bends where the river has been sapping the bank away and damaging farming lands, narrow the channel and bring the stream completely under control."

Major Young and a group of newspaper men took a trip down the river to see how the stream is cutting away farming lands by the acre.

Going Toward Railroad.

Near Nearman, Kas., along the river's southern shore as it reaches the Missouri state line, the river was cutting into a large farming area and gradually sapping its way toward the railroad station there.

Further downstream, near Atherton, Mo., another such scene was encountered.

And so on downstream, at almost every little turn in the river, the rushing waters were gnawing into rich farm soil, taking an acre here, more there and so on until the inspection tourists landed at Sny Bend near here.

"It seems a pity to let these things go on," commented Major Young, "yet there are cases where probably the best thing to do is to let the stream cut its new course and eliminate a bend, although it does destroy some land.

"We are trying to eliminate some bad bends in the river in this vicinity.

Won't Give Up.

"We shall keep hammering away with our revetments and our dikes and retards," Major Young continued, "until we have made the Missouri navigable for all kinds of river shipping.

"It will take money, and it will take work, but sooner or later we will have the river completely under control. Then the cost of keeping it open to river navigation will be comparatively small."

It is the government's plan now to harness the Missouri from Kansas City to where it empties into the Mississippi above St. Louis and make it suitable for river shipping and thus bring about cheaper shipping rates to the gulf coast regions.

State Democrats To Fight Ladner Case To Finish

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Democratic leaders here re-iterated their assertions today that the appointment of Albert H. Ladner, Jr., to the local registration commission will be fought to the finish. Steps will be taken today, it was said, to hold up the pay of all the members until the Ladner controversy is settled.

The Democrats also announced that every act of the commission as it now stands will be contested as illegal because "the Governor illegally appointed four Republican members."

BEGGAR'S RING IS UNCOVERED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—A "beggars' ring" using a hopelessly crippled, emaciated looking little boy as a pawn in fleecing the public is believed by police to have been uncovered here.

For the past few Saturday nights a 10-year-old boy, legs amputated just below the knees, and so wan and sickly looking that the crowds thronging the avenue could not persist his pathetic appeal, has sought alms and hundreds dropped coins into his box without taking the chewing gum offered for sale.

He took his usual stand last Saturday night and a woman paused to drop a coin in the box, when she became suspicious of two men lurking in the shadows nearby, she watched them for a time, and saw them empty the lad's box as soon as it became filled, then return to their post. She called the police, but the men escaped.

During the excitement another boy pushed his way through the crowd and demanded custody of the crippled beggar, declaring he was a brother. Later a woman appeared and claimed the child as her son. The police are investigating, meanwhile witholding all names in the case.

Games and Tournaments

Games and tournaments were played on the various fields and the contests were witnessed by scores of visitors. The Kit Carsons won a hard ball game from the Indians by a score of 14 to 8, the winners being: Hannon, Lindner, Greer, Eckels, Gillest, Van Berg, Renner, Follet and Anderson.

A soft-ball game between the Dave Crockets and the Dan Boones was won by the latter by a score of 10 to 4. The team was composed of the following players: Thomas McKim, Helling, Jenkins, Newton, Burry, Clark, A. Smith, McHenry. The contest on the archery range was won by the Indians, with 16 points against the Boones. In a volley ball game the Kit Carsons won by 15 points to the Thompsons' 10. In a tennis match Melvin Caplin and Eugene Ray were the winners, and other tennis players winning in a tournament were Cunningham, Repman, Griffith and Rambo. Headquarters hut is day by day becoming more like a little museum, with objects fashioned by the Scouts to pass their tests and merit badges. One could see wooden spoons, knives, forks, poignards, fuzzy sticks and miniature bridges, signaling towers and rafts; also collections of insects and leaves and flowers.

New Hut

A new hut, the 12th in the row, was begun and completed yesterday by the Gun and Rod Club of the Carnegie Steel Mills, the hut being the gift of New Castle Lions, and it comes in the neck of time, when camp registration has reached a maximum.

J. W. Offutt Donates Flag Pole

A new steel flag pole has been promised the camp by J. W. Offutt, a staunch supporter of scouting, and such a gift will be received with great gratification. By mistake someone else's name had been mentioned in connection with this gift, and this comes as a due ratification.

The torrential rains of the evening, which flooded the camp and caused hundreds of visitors to scurry under cover of the huts, prevented the dramatization of the Scout play which was to be given.

The Scouts, in bathing suits and all kinds of Indian make-up and pioneers' costumes, were drenched, but took the greatest fun from the occurrence, weathered as they have been to the real open air life.

San Francisco Is Seeking Law To Bar Firecrackers

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28. — A state law to prohibit celebration of Fourth of July with fireworks is under consideration by Bay region legislators.

Although firecrackers are forbidden in most of the cities fringing San Franciso Bay, Chinese merchants "bootleg" the explosives to eager young celebrants, police officers complain.

Citizens living in cities where firecrackers cannot be sold buy their supplies from surburban merchants, it was asserted, and the only way this practice can be stopped is by state law.

Infantile Paralysis At Martins Ferry

MARTINS FERRY, O., July 28. — Closing the city playgrounds and forbidding all children under 15 from attending the movies were the drastic steps taken by the Health Department here to check the rapid spread of the infantile paralysis epidemic which has broken out and is causing general alarm.

Eleven new cases, the most of them severe, were reported last evening, and two deaths have resulted.

State Health officers may be called to help curb the spread of the disease.

Charming Youth

Ivy Harris.

One of the chief qualities in Ivy Harris, that opened the gates to her screen career, is her charmingly youthful appearance. Recently she has been initiated into the ranks of fullfledged leading women at the Paramount. "Fascinating Youth" was one of the pictures that brought her to the attention of screen audiences.

Want Ocean Island For Plane Landing

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 28.—Creation of an island in mid-Atlantic as a landing place for trans-oceanic airplanes was suggested here by D. B. J. Cigrand, author and lecturer.

Pointing out that in one place in the Atlantic ocean in a direct line between Newfoundland and France the sea bed is only 36 feet beneath the surface of the water, acording to a government survey Cigrand suggested to aviation experts here the idea of building the island.

In another spot 400 miles closer to the North American continent the ocean bottom is 58 feet from the surface he said.

The most shallow spot in the Atlantic statistics reveal is the top of a subterranean plateau measuring fifteen by six miles. Old ships, rocks and ordinary debris could be hauled to this spot he suggested and an island constructed at a cost of several million dollars.

"The island could possess a large radio station capable of transmitting intercontinental messages" he said "It could be a refueling place for planes. Possibly international law would prevent the United States from constructing the island. But enterprising cities such as New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles or San Francisco with their slumbering millions could easily lend a hand.

Now . . . an entirely new Cereal!

After thousands of years, the honor for discovering the real secret of rice comes to Pittsburgh.

The House of Heinz and its Industrial Fellowship at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research have perfected, after five years investigation, a process which gives rice a new form, a new flavor, and utilizes all the health-giving qualities of the grain in a most remarkable way.

Heinz Rice Flakes—so good that the delicate popcorn flavor is ever remembered . . . So delicate they would almost float in the air and yet retain their appetizing crispness in cream or milk . . . So healthful that you quickly realize the benefit.

The reason is that this new process, owned and used exclusively by Heinz, not only flakes and crisps the rice but so utilizes the natural roughage of the rice that it imparts a moisture-absorbing property which is one of Nature's best eliminative aids.

Heinz Rice Flakes are so different, every way, that you must eat them to realize fully their distinctive flavor and healthfulness.

DON'T FOOL WITH MINDREADERS

NEW YORK July 28—If you're going to steal autos be sure you don't get one owned by a mindreader. Take the case of Joseph Dunninger "mind-reader extraordinary." He walked into the Alexandra avenue station and he told the detectives just where they'd find it along with the thief. A half hour later he made good when officers arrested a man who'd smashed the car into a pillar. Dunniger then further astounded the police by correctly forecasting the trief's plea and excuse.

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, July 28.—More than 75 adherents of Leon Trotzky and Gregory Zinoviev, leaders of the "left" oppositionists in the Russian Communist party have been expelled summarily from the party this year.

A third as many more have been sent to Siberia, not in exile, but to governmental posts, tantamount to exile. Their movements are watched day and night by agents of the G. P. U., the government political police, successor to Tcheka.

This became known today on the eve of the meeting of a plenum of the central executive and the central control committees of the party which has been called for July 30 to vote on Trotzky's and Zinoviev's banishment from the central committee. Such banishment would amount to political, if not physical exile.

Wurtemburg Road Open To Traffic

Accident Last Night At Second Bridge Mars Festivities Of Opening

ELLWOOD CITY, July 28—The new concrete road to Wurtemburg opened for travel Wednesday with quite a stream of cars testing its smoothness. While quite a narrow road it is nevertheless such an improvement on the old system of mud-travel in Wurtemburg that the citizens are beside themselves with joy. No formal dedication has taken place as yet although the Wurtemburg Community club is having a social this evening to launch H. Workley's new garage at Wurtemburg and the public is invited.

The new road is three miles long extending from the National Tube company's grounds to the third bridge in Wurtemburg. The road runs paralell to the Harmony line at the start and then veers off around the old Country club and on to Wurtemburg.

An accident occurred last night at the second bridge and was the first mishap on the road. A group of young men from Park Gate were driving along the road and the concrete being wet the car skidded, crashing into the bridge and seriously shaking up the occupants. All the names of the men could not be learned although one is said to have given his name as Honnifer. Fortunately no one was seriously injured although the machine was badly smashed and was taken into the Workley garage.

New Type Truck For Ice Cream

Carries Own Refrigerating System; First One In Use Here

An ice cream delivery truck which is not dependent on ice to keep the cream cool has recently been added to the Reick-McJunkin fleet.

The cooling system of the truck runs entirely independent of the motive power. A Delco plant, which runs a Frigidaire unit furnishes a temperature of four degrees above zero. And when the temperature rises to 18 degrees above zero, automatically the plant begins to function, and thus brings the temperature down to the desired degree of coldness.

This is the first truck of its type in Pennsylvania, and it is used on a route where no ice or salt is needed. Each store at which the truck stops has its own electrical refrigeration system.

The refrigerating body of the truck is built on a model 51 two and one-half ton White chassis.

Speaking Of Rain

By THE OBSERVER

The prevalent question this morning is "Did it rain down your way?" and the monotonous answer comes invariably "Oh—yes, of course."

The summer colony at the Country club has weatherd many a storm, and the peculiar part of the situation there, is that every time a particularly hard rain comes, the creek overflows it's banks joyously and roams all over the landscape completely obliterating the road, bridge, etc., and destroying thousands of dollars worth of greens on the golf links. One may go to bed at night serene in the thought that all is quiet along the Connoquenessing, and awaken in the morning hearing strange sounds outside the window which proves to be the risen creek coursing in a torrent directly under one's nose. But the colonists are hardened and are armed with canoes, etc.

However tragic as the circumstances may be to the nervous inhabitants there who begin to wonder if the cottage is rivited surely to the cement posts, funny things happen. One brave lad started to wade across the fairway for his canoe, with the water coming up to his knees, and getting along fine until suddenly he disappeared from view. It developed later that he had only stepped into the run which is about eight feet deep, and couldn't be detected on account of the high water. It is suggested that the next improvement, after the new club-house is paid for, might be a large ark in case the creek gets beyond herself and threatens to destroy all and sundry.

COLLEGE BOYS ON ICE WAGON

Ice Man Totes Nearly Seven And Half Tons Of Ice On Back

Ice men have a tough time of it now. Often two men, with one wagon, are required to deliver more than 15 tons a day, making each man, for they divide the work, lift and carry at least seven and one-half tons.

And, although Red Grange is not getting the publicity that he used to get, yet there are two college boys working on the wagons of the McCready Ice and Coal Company. Doubtless they, too, have grid aspirations.

O course, it is with the kids that the ice man is the most popular. Long strings of them follow the wagon, picking up the little pieces which the man shaves off when he makes the cake fit your ice box.

But the cutting of the cake and lifting it from the wagon is by far the simplest part of the ice man's job. Often he must climb up three or four flights of stairs and deposit what is left of the 25 pounds in a small ice box after, of course, removing a bottle of ginger ale, a head of lettuce, a plate of butter, a melon and perhaps some fudge which simply would not harden. Then he places his burden in the ice chest and part by part, puts back what was left of yesterday's dinner. But often he does not place these things back in the ice chest in the proper place, and so he can only desert them or leave them on the floor if the young housewife does not come to his rescue.

So, although the ice man seems to have a cool job, it really is rather hot when he hears all of the complaints about broken drain pipes, overflowing drip pans and the neighbor's children.

High Wind Overturns Track Laborer's Home

Sampson street, near the garbage incinerator, was the scene of a near disaster last evening. Or, at least, it would have been a disaster if the track service company of Youngstown, had not moved their men at five o'clock, or three hours before the heavy rain and wind hit New Castle.

Twelve men would have been homeless; or as near homeless as a man can very well be.

Today the little building in which the men were staying while doing track construction work about New Castle is a peculiar sight. Six double deck beds are standing in the open air, with pillows and blankets strewn everywhere. Cooking utensils are rusting in their cans, and Katy, the little camp stove, stands rather wistfully on two legs, perhaps wondering about better days that have passed, and worse days which are to come.

Yes, last night the whole building overturned, and everything was set topsy-turvy. Everything, that is, but a little bracket lamp, which clung firmly to the side of the shack, and, today stands right side up on a wall that is up side down.

Perhaps some of the track laborers would be thankful for new shoes, since many odd pairs are strewn about. Hats and coats lay drying in the July sun.

Twelve track laborers will have to tamp many a tie to repair the damage done last evening by a few minutes of high wind.

Will your skin bear close scrutiny?

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Who Is Out of Place in This Picture?

Pedestrians who cross the street with the lights red do so at their own risk. Continually on Washington street as well as other much traveled streets of New Castle we see pedestrians crossing with the lights against them and an auto bearing down on them quickly applying the breaks to avoid an accident. "Jay Walking" is another common practice in our city. It is better to walk half a block to a corner than to be hit by crossing the street between blocks. Better Safe than Sorry.

Poor Headlights Greatest Drawback To Night Driving

Motorists who find night-driving one of summer's greatest pleasures, owe it to themselves and to others to see that the headlights on their cars are adjusted so as not to be glaring, and yet, at the same time, present adequate illumination of the highway, according to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. With thousands of motorists indulging in this pleasant pastime, the poorly focused and inadequate headlight becomes a graver menace than at any other season, Mr. Hanlon points out.

"The headlight evil about which there has been so much discussion of recent years is entering the season in which it makes itself most seriously felt," says Mr. Hanlon. "The cool countryside will call to everyone during the coming month. When the days are hot and sultry, the entire family looks forward to gliding through the evening breeze and the automobile becomes well nigh indispensable."

"But a great deal of joy of such short journeys is lost in the discomfort, if not actual danger, of proceeding with exasperating slowness into an avalanche of glaring headlights. The tragedy of the fatal and scores upon scores of minor accidents that are due to such a cause is that they are so easily preventable. At one time headlight adjustment was difficult because headlight equipment was imperfectly developed, some types being so inefficient that adjustment was virtually impossible."

"This is not true today," Hanlon points out. "Motor car manufacturers, lamp makers and the American Automobile Association, with which this club is affiliated, have been cooperating for several years in an effort to solve the headlight problem. Such progress has been made that if the individual car owner will make the effort, he will find it very simple to put his headlights into proper adjustment or have them so adjusted. Summer's greatest pleasure demands that he act for the safety of his family and all other highway users."

Feline Torch Is Killed By Auto

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., July 28.—"White Foot," known here as the "feline torch", is dead.

The cat, which gained notoriety by fleeing to a barn filled with hay when its fur caught fire after flaming oil from an incubator dropped on it, was killed by an automobile.

The cat's flaming fur ignited the hay and the barn burned down, but "White Foot" escaped with scorched fur. All of its nine lives were snuffed out here, however, when the cat started across the road in the path of a speeding car.

Plan Memorial At Valley Forge

(International News Service)

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 28.—Tentative plans for a fund for the construction of a huge Washington memorial auditorium here, as revealed by Rev. Herbert Burk, pastor of the Valley Forge Chapel, calls for the raising of $10,000,000 on a basis of $1 each from ten million persons.

Rev. Burk said he hoped to break ground for the cornerstone of the building June 19, 1928, on the 150th anniversary of the Continental army's march across the Schuylkill from Valley Forge to Norristown and Doylestown.

Dr. Burk hopes that the auditorium can be completed in time for the 200th anniversary of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1932.

Erection of a gigantic auditorium has been made necessary, Dr. Burk said, by the increasing thousands of tourists who visit the shrine each year.

Says Pittsburgh Most Healthy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 28—Pittsburgh is one of the healthiest cities in the United States for its size, Dr. Richard Brown, head of the health department here, said.

Dr. Brown took exception to the report of agencies reporting vital statistics which said Pittsburgh had the largest death rate in the nation.

The smoke evil which made the city unhealthy has been abated, Dr. Brown said, citing figures to show that the smoke has been reduced 60 per cent in the last 14 years.

Brown explained that a large number of deaths attributed to Pittsburgh included non-residents, accidents and suicides.

When the figures are checked up, Brown asserted, Pittsburgh will be found to rate as one of the healthiest cities of its size in existence—and getting healthier all the time.

Political Storm Is Threatening

Believe Fisher Upsets Hornets' Nest By Ladner Appointment

TROUBLES MOUNT FOR EXECUTIVE

By S. I. NEIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 28.—With the same flourish of the pen wherewith he signed the appointment of Albert H. Ladner, Jr., to the Philadelphia registration commission, Governor John S. Fisher has written himself into a political hornet's nest.

This became increasingly apparent today as Attorney General Thomas A. Baldridge considered the petition of a group of Philadelphia Democrats who seek to have his department intervene as a co-plaintiff in litigation looking toward quo warranto proceedings. The Democrats question Ladner's appointment to the commission, as a Democrat, alleging the Philadelphian has registered during the past several years as a Republican.

Governor Fisher maneuvered himself out of one difficult political situation by announcing a hands off policy in the county partisan fights this fall, only to inadvertently stir up another embroglio by the Ladner appointment.

Meantime Attorney General Baldridge has been left to the unpleasant task of deciding between taking a part in litigation questioning the appointment—by the same hand which appointed him—and being eventually drawn into the squabble regardless, if court action is taken without his department cooperation.

Political Storm.

Governor Fisher heard the first faint rumblings of the political storm on the eve of his departure westward for his vacation.

His friends fear the governor will return to find the battle going full tilt. The Democrats are expected to push the fight, not only for the opportunity it affords to embarrass a Republican governor, but also for a showdown on the Democratic bi-partisan issue.

The Democrats see in the Ladner case an example of the problem which has has confronted the old-line partisans for many years. They allege that members of their party have been too prone to seek favors at the hands of Republican chieftains—and they hope to strike at the practice through the present issue.

Governor Fisher, who hurried off to a much needed vacation, has not been too successful to date in his efforts to escape political worries. Not only did he leave the Ladner-Democratic storm brewing, to await his return, but he was served with an unpleasant reminder of past troubles when he attended the conference of governors at Mackinac Lake, Mich., only to hear Gifford Pinchot, storm center of Pennsylvania politics, hold out the Keystone state as a horrible example of political corruption in a speech to the governors.

The governor's friends are convinced now of the wisdom of Fisher's action in dashing off to his vacation without an entourage of secretaries and attaches. They expect him to have worries enough on his return, without taking any with him.

New York Detectives Seek Person Who Planted Bomb In East River Tunnel

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 28. — Scranton Pa., became the operating center today of New York detectives seeking the person who placed an 18-inch dynamite bomb, capable of taking an incalculable toll in human life and property loss, in an Interborough Rapid Transit company tunnel under the East River.

A close analysis of the main charge in the bomb disclosed that it was of a type made by only one manufacturer in the United States and he is located in Scranton, according to authorities in charge of the investigation.

Fingerprints other than those of the trackwalker who found the deadly missive were found on the bomb and these lent added impetus today to the search of police for the person who placed it in the tunnel.

Alarmed by the ease with which anyone on a destructive errand may enter the subway tracks, police and Interborough officials planned today to maintain guards at all entrances, especially those leading into the tunnels.

Plan Exposition At Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, O., July 28.—Accurate cross-section of the 4,000 industries in the Cleveland area and of the 12,000 throughout the state will be set up for hundreds of thousands who visit the mammoth Ohio-Cleveland Industrial Exposition here August 6 to 28.

The extent of this unparalleled variety is realized when it is considered that 90 per cent of all the officially classified industries in the United States find representation in the Cleveland manufacturing area, according to a survey of industrial activities by the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

Visualization of this great manufacturing diversity already is becoming manifest at the exposition grounds at the head of the famous Mall, Cleveland's civic center. The sound of hammer and saw, and the hoarse cries of workmen testify to the fact that the stupendous task of placing the hundreds of exhibits already is under way.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

The hors d'oeuvres are served as a first course or appetizer in place of fruit cocktail or soup. If you have no regular relish dishes on which to serve them, use salad plates on top of a dinner plate.

Hors d'Oeuvres
Broiled Sirloin Steak
New Potatoes with Parsley and Butter
String Beans Berry Shortcake
Coffee

TODAY'S RECIPES

Hors d'Oeuvres—One can boneless sardines, one tomato, small bunch celery, small bunch radishes and scallions, bottle olives and two deviled eggs. Place on each plate one sardine, one-quarter tomato, one stalk celery, a few radishes, olives and scallions and one-half of one of the eggs. Serve with toasted Vienna rolls or bread sticks. Serves four.

SUGGESTIONS

Little Items of Importance

A spoon of whipped cream sprinkled with finely minced parsley gives a cream soup a more appetizing appearance.

Noodles cut in fancy shapes, thinly sliced vegetables or well browned croutons may be used to dress up clear soups.

Plan to make your salad course attractive. A bright red apple filled with Waldorf salad is suitable for a simple luncheon. Tomatoes hollowed out and filled with cauliflower or asparagus tips, cooked and marinated in French dressing and topped with mayonnaise make an attractive salad.

Creamed chicken, mashed potatoes and asparagus tips combined make an attractive one-plate dinner. Make a ring of the potatoes by setting a greased mold on a plate. Shape the potatoes around it, then remove the mold and fill the center with the chicken, placing the asparagus tips or whatever green vegetable you serve with the chicken and potato, on the outside.

When Your Night's Rest Is Broken

Get a bottle of Marshroot—it's a guaranteed medicine and if it doesn't help you, get your money back—we stand back of it. No doubt it will help you in other ways, too—more energy—strength—ambition. About Half Cattle Of State Tested For T. B.

Tests of cattle such as recently made Lawrence County almost free of bovine tuberculosis and among the 9 accredited counties will reduce the amount of bovine tuberculosis to less than one-half of one per cent by 1933 according to the Bureau of Animal Industry of the State Department of Agriculture.

One-half of the cattle of the State have been tested. On July 1 a total of 630,000 head out of a total cattle population of 1,280,000 had been given the test one or more times.

Two plans are in use for the testing of herds. One is the individual herd plan under which herds here and there over the State are tested. The other is the area plan which is used in Lawrence county where all the herds in a township are tested at a time. On July 1, a total of 4,081 herds were fully accredited under the individual herd plan, having passed two or more clean tests. Likewise all the herds in 14 counties has been tested under the area plan, and nine of these counties were accredited.

The counties which are now regarded as "modified accredited counties," being practically free of tuberculosis include besides Lawrence County the counties of Butler, Jefferson, Mercer, Crawford, Indiana, Clearfield, McKean and Cameron.

The following counties have been completely tested but have not qualified as accredited areas: Columbia, Elk, Monroe, Potter and Union.

The desire among cattle owners for having the tuberculin test made is so great that a waiting list of 2,572 individual herds in 54 counties and all the herds in 256 townships in 45 counties was reported by the Bureau on July 1.

TEX RICKARD IS IN CHICAGO FOR CONFERENCE

Mid-West May Get Big Fight

Chicago Millionaires Try To Prevail Upon Rickard To Select Windy City

PHILADELPHIA IS OUT OF RUNNING

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 28.—The run around preceding the gesture of locating the second Dempsey-Tunney brawl took Tex Rickard to Chicago today where he will confer with a committee of business men appointed by Mayor Thompson to snare the big fight for midwestern production.

Tex will be back Saturday to listen to rebuttal testimony from New York "interests" which are presumably strongly opposed to this "back to the soil" movement.

The proposition to stage the battle for a second time in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium seems to be cold. Apparently Philadelphia is out of the running.

The Chicago inducements no doubt will be impressively presented to Rickard. Here and there a voice has been raised against lending the Soldiers Memorial stadium there to a brutal prize fight in which one of the principals has no war record but Chicago, as a community, would like to see one of Mr. Rickard's leather carnivals.

The patriots who are opposing Dempsey on old issues may be appeased by the prospect of Mr. Tunney, a soldier and a gentleman, doing away with the uncouth Mr. Dempsey for all time.

At this moment Chicago seems to be the favored spot. It is understood that Mr. George Getz, chairman of the Windy City go-getters, is prepared to offer Rickard the suport of 700 corn-feed millionaires.

Millionaire Patronage.

That may decide it. Mr. Rickard is very proud of his 600 New York millionaires who rally to his box-offices in all important fights here but the item of one hundred more millionaires on the Chicago end may count heavily with him.

He may even combine the two sets of millionaires by holding the fight in Chicago and showing up the western millionaires by having his original six hundred millionaires attend the fight in a bejeweled body, making the trip on a gold plated train.

Chicago has never sent any official army of plutocrats to any New York fight.

In that way Tex could get the money and show up Chicago at the same time. An expedition of a thousand miles with incidental expenses is easily managed by a millionaire.

Another advantage is that 40,000 ringside seats can be placed in the Chicago arena and all will afford good views of the fight. In the last battle at the Yankee stadium Tex had to seat some more or less influential millionaires back of the tenth row and there were squawks.

Poor Boys Squawks.

New York's great army of poor, who can afford nothing better than $5 or $10 seats, resents Rickard's threat to run out. They consider his retreat to Chicago as rank discrimination for they cannot afford the trip. The only compromise possible is for Tex to double the price charged for Dempsey and Sharkey and stay right here to accommodate the poor.

When the prices for the last fight were announced the populace revolted—according to some authorities—and the resultant ticket scandal was terrible. Nothing has been heard of George W. Scandal since the fight which leads many to believe it was an issue of no important whatever.

Now New York is consumed by fear that Rickard will take his bat and ball and go away from here, denying thousands of respectable citizens the opportunity of paying $20 for a $50 ticket in the first ten rows.

Something ought to be done about it.

Charles A. Stoneman, owner of the Giants, offered a simple solution. He would turn the Polo Grounds over to Mr. Rickard. For the Firpo-Dempsey fight there were close to 94,000 seats available at the Polo Grounds. And at $27.50 top he figures grossed $1,-103,378.

Mr. Stoneman suggests Rickard can get his $2,000,000 gate—which he needs to pay off the fighters—by simpling doubling the old prices.

Colonel Jack Ruppert, who operates the Yankee Stadium which Rickard leases for big boxing shows, is supporting Mr. Stoneman's proposition just as heavily as the anti-saloon league is supporting Al Smith.

There is a little matter of financial difference between Rickard and Stoneman, arising from the Firpo-Dempsey thing, which Mr. Rickard doubtless would insist on being settled before moving his circus into the Polo Grounds.

Pirates Regain League Supremacy

Pirates Knock Dodgers For Second In Row; Giants Tame Cubs

LOU GEHRIG HITS HIS 33RD HOMER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Pirates are leading the Cubs by one game in the National League nightmare today as the result of their 2 to 1 victory over Brooklyn while the Bruins were losing to the Giants. Victor Aldridge, the Hoosier schoolmaster, held the Robins to five hits and outpitched Dazzy Vance, who dropped his fourth straight decision.

A four run rally after two were out in the ninth, featured by Terry's double with the bases loaded, gave the Giants a 6 to 4 win over the Cubs. Hack Wilson contributed his eighteenth homer.

Cincinnati's winning streak was practically ruined by Kent Greenfield, of the Braves, who has been winning with greater regularity than a phantom clocker, three star special even since he escaped from McGraw influence. The Braves won 7 to 2, scoring all their runs in one inning. Ray Kolp, known as Sitting Bull because he sits in the Cincy bull pen all season, started the second game and won 5 to 2, allowing only five hits.

As Brooklyn lost, the Reds advanced to fifth place.

Gehrig swatted his thirty-third homer, tying Ruth, as the Yankees won their fourteenth straight game from the Browns, 4 to 1. Pennock limited the Brownies to three hits and Lazzerri walloped his fifteenth homer.

The Yanks have won seventy games and lead Washington by fourteen games. The Nats lost to the White Sox in the tenth, 7 to 4.

After Frisch's homer had tied the score in the ninth and Bell's homer had knotted the count again in the tenth, the Cardinals nosed out the Phillies in the eleventh 9 to 8. The Cards' pennant chances suffered a staggering blow, however, when Flint Rhem, their star pitcher, quit the team after being fined $2,000 for breaking training rules.

Earl Whitehill of the Tigers, won a 3 to 1 pitching duel from Sam Gray of the Athletics. Heilmann's homer sewed up the game.

Pennsy Defeats Energy, 7 To 1

Vallely Pitches Four-Hit Game As Pennsy Boys Annex League Victory

Scoring seven runs in two big innings the Pennsy Railroad team defeated Energy 7 to 1 in a Lawrence County league game played last night at the E. and A. grounds.

Vallely on the knoll for the Railroaders allowed the Energy boys but four hits and fanned three batters. S. Houk on the mound for Energy was hit hard.

The Pennsy team counted four runs in the first chapter and three more in the fifth to snatch their victory. Energy kicked in with their lone tally in the fifth.

Jones, General, Pacarro and McCluskey featured the hitting for the Pennsy team with Byak the best slugger for the losers.

Helen Of Greenwich — By Feg Murray

A town with the Indian name of Massapequa, situated somewhere in Long Island, N. Y., now automatically becomes the Battling Beauty center of America, as the annual outdoor A. A. U. girls' swimming championships get under way today.

This four day carnival has brought together the class of America's natatorial femininity, with the exception of those Three Graces of the aquatic world, Gertrude Ederle, Aileen Riggin and Helen Wainwright, who are all professiona's and so ineligible to compete. This is probably the greatest meeting of women swimmers that will be held anywhere prior to the Olympic Games in 1928.

Among those present, and very much so missed, is attractive Helen Meaney of Greenwich, Connecticut, who is known throughout the land as one of the most graceful and accomplished of Uncle Sam's troupe of diving girls. Helen competed for her Uncle at Antwerp in 1920, and at Paris in 1924, and to say that she will once more enjoy the pleasures and benefits derived from a free trip to Europe, in 1928, is not making any rash statement.

At the moment, Helen is busier thinking about the business at hand than she is about what may happen next year, for she has a title to defend, a title that various other young ladies, for divers' reasons, would like to take away from her.

For be it known that Helen Meaney, twenty-two, of the Greenwich Meaneys, (there are about a dozen of 'em, all good swimmers) is the present National A. A. U. outdoor, ten-foot springboard diving champion. She also holds the indoor title on the low board and the ten-foot, won at Buffalo last February. This graceful mermaid can be counted on to give her best, no matter whether the dive called for is the rythmic swan, the difficult one-and-one-half, or the gymnastic jack-knife, and her best is usually good enough to win. She would also like to add the high platform championship to her credit, as she held this title for five years but had to relinquish it because of ear trouble.

Canton Here Saturday To Meet New Castle In Twin Bill Attraction

Booster Day Saturday Will Fill Local Grandstand, Is Indication

Automobile To Be Given Away; Jamieson And Hospidor To Twirl

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle-Youngstown's combined team will wage a hot fight for second place in the O. & P. League, here Saturday afternoon, when they engage the Cantonites in a double-header. The first game will start at 2 o'clock daylight savings time.

Saturday is designated as Booster Day for the locals. The event was to have been held last Saturday, but the sudden downpour of rain, caused the games to be washed-overboard. The automobile, a sedan I believe, will be given away on Saturday. The machine will go to the holder of the lucky number immediately after the first game.

The locals can go into second place in the league standing by a double-victory Saturday over Canton. Jamieson and Hospidor are the probable pitching choices. Both pitchers have had considerable rest and they are rarin' to get back to the knob.

The New Castle- Youngstown and Girard Merchant game scheduled for Idora Park yesterday afternoon, was postponed on account of rain.

On Sunday afternoon the New Castle-Youngstown team will play the Erie Sailors at Idora Park, in a league contest. If the locals can secure two victories on Saturday and defeat the Sailors on Sunday the standing will have a different complexion.

Divorce Termed Necessary Evil, Increase Alarms

(International News Service)

DENVER, July 28.—"Divorce is an evil, but it is also a necessity," said District Judge Henley A. Calvert here recently.

He attributes much of the difficulties encountered in modern marriages to the fact that most couples refuse to make any attempt to make a success of their marriages. This effort should come first of all from the mother, he said, since she more than any other can form closer connections between the members of the family.

The difficulties experienced by the young husband just starting out in business and the young wife just learning to keep house cause an unnecessary number of separations, he explained. It is no worse for the bride to find fault with the husband and his work, than for him to take her to task for not doing things "as mother used to do them."

While divorces continue to increase in proportion to marriages, this increase is not generally very alarming, Judge Calvert said. In many states, in fact, there has been a slightly larger increase in marriages than in divorces. Denver is far better in this respect than many cities. During 1925 and 1926 divorces here have decreased less than one-tenth of one per cent while marriages have decreased less than .05 per cent.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Having seen the recent battle between Dempsey and Sharkey and having, quite naturally, formed a personal opinion regarding many phases of the melee and the outcome, I have been interested in listening to the general comment of the folk who didn't see the fight—who have had to depend upon the innumerable conflicting reports.

And the impression I get is—

That, as far as said general public is concerned the fight left the heavyweight situation in the same chaotic, uncertain state in which it milled before the two Jacks opened the million-dollar pot.

The victory was a triumph for Dempsey in many ways, but it did not restore him to his fallen estate. He faces still the big test—that against Tunney. And the general feeling around the ringside was that he will have to be better against Tunney than he was against Sharkey to regain the title.

The defeat did not eliminate Sharkey as a "comer"—or as one of the leading aspirants for Tunney's title. Sharkey's inexperience and the cloud thrown over Dempsey's victory by the questionable blows gives the Boston man plenty of ballyhoo material to use while fighting his way back to a crack at Tunney—or whoever holds the title when Sharkey's next "big shot" comes.

The fight did, however, prove several things over which the public has pondered for months.

It proved—to myself and scores of others—that our feeling that all was not well with Dempsey the night he met Tunney was well founded. Nay, more, that it was something besides mere lack of training that sent him into the ring that night a beaten man.

It proved, as many suspected, that Sharkey was much over-touted—was literally press agented into a major fight when he really should have been fighting the run of mine heavies. He lacks the experience, the ring generalship, the head and the punch for big-time bouts. The moral to this is: Beware of the fanfare.

It proved, what was long accepted as a fact, by millions, that Dempsey is still the most popular figure in the ring game today—the biggest idol the game has known since the days of John L. Sullivan.

But that's as far as the fight goes. Tunney licked Dempsey and Sharkey couldn't halt the Mauler. Sharkey was called the pick of the field before he met Dempsey. He proved to be a sunflower.

Of course it also proved that loquaciousness is a poor substitute for ring brains, but that's neither here nor there.

Now it is to be Dempsey against Tunney—again.

And find me one man who hasn't the slightest idea how he's going to feel about that battle a week before it is staged.

Constable McClenahan Gets Two Ohio Men

This morning about seven o'clock, Constable Robert McClenahan of Pulaski township, arrested two men out of a party of four, who were traveling along the road in the vicinity of New Bedford and apparently enjoying a liquor party. They came to grief when the driver drove the car, a brand new machine, into the fence of a farmer of that district and the constable was notified.

The driver and one of the other men in the party made their getaway, but R. A. Kline and John Winklen of Cleveland, O., were arrested by the constable and take before Justice of the Peace C. L. Zedaker of New Bedford, where they were charged with transporting and possessing liquor.

They were brought into the county jail by Constable McClenahan and in default of $1,500 bail each, they are being held in that place pending a hearing.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Gettysburg—The Battle Ends. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

AFTER CHECKING THE DARING CHARGE OF THE CONFEDERATES UPON CEMETERY RIDGE, THE FEDERALS SWARMED AROUND PICKETT, ATTACKING ON ALL SIDES, AND DROVE THE BROKEN FRAGMENTS OF HIS FORCE BACK DOWN THE SLOPE.

AS THE SHATTERED REMNANTS OF PICKETT'S AND PETTIGREW'S COMMANDS REACHED THEIR OWN LINES, GEN. LEE RODE ALONG THE COLUMN, PRAISING THEM FOR THE GALLANTRY THEY HAD DISPLAYED. LEE EXPECTED A DETERMINED COUNTER-CHARGE WOULD BE THE NEXT MOVE OF THE FEDERALS, AND PREPARED TO MEET IT, BUT MEADE'S PLANS WERE DEFENSIVE AND THE LOOKED-FOR ATTACK DID NOT COME.

PICKETT'S CHARGE WAS THE CLIMAX OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG, AND THE END OF LEE'S HOPES OF A SUCCESSFUL INVASION OF THE NORTH. IN INVADING THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY AND ATTACKING A NUMERICALLY SUPERIOR FORCE IN STRONG POSITIONS, THE CONFEDERATE COMMANDER HAD TAKEN A DESPERATE CHANCE AND LOST.

LEE WAS DEEPLY GRIEVED OVER THE LOSS OF SO MANY OF HIS BRAVE MEN AND BLAMED NO ONE BUT HIMSELF FOR THE FAILURE OF THE FINAL ASSAULT. HAVING FAILED TO DISLODGE THE FEDERALS ON THE RIDGE, HE ABANDONED HIS OFFENSIVE TACTICS AND DREW HIS FORCES BACK TO A STRONG DEFENSIVE LINE EXTENDING ALONG SEMINARY RIDGE.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 28.—Official confirmation of its purchase of 114,000 shares of United States Steel common stock, and expectation of a more active participation of the powerful Du Pont interests in the affairs of the Steel Corporation, served to focus speculative interest on U. S. Steel stock at the beginning of trading today.

On the initial sale of the day, Steel Common advanced fractionally to a new high at 129½, while moderate gains were scored by the bulk of the motor and industrial shares which have played such a conspicuous part in the riotous advance of prices in recent weeks. Nash and Chrysler continued to feature the motor shares, but Wall Street discredited the report that current aggressive buying of the stock was for the account of the General Motors or Du-Pont interests.

Entrance of the Du Ponts into positions of leadership in United States Steel Corporation affairs if and when consummated, is expected to foreshadow a more liberal policy toward the holders of the stock of the big steel producer.

Mrs. Kennedy Says She Will Not Go Back To New York

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 28.—Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, who has been fired as business manager of Angelus Temple as a result of her break with her evangelist daughter, Aimee Semple McPherson, today flatly rejected the proposal that she quit the tabernacle for good and return to her wealthy husband in New York.

The suggestion that she go back to N. Wittenbeck, Hudson river steamboat engineer, from whom she admits she never has been divorced, was one of four "optional courses" submitted to Mrs. Kennedy by the "peace committee" appointed by Mrs. McPherson to settle the dissension in the temple.

"The idea is absurd", Mrs. Kennedy declared indignantly. "I'll not return."

Review Of Iron And Steel Trade

Iron Age Summary Of Industry Shows Some Betterment Is Discernible

The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow will say: What little change is discernible in the steel market is on the side of betterment. With some companies bookings are now comparable to those of early May. Mill operations have, if anything, slightly increased for the industry as a whole. Some additions to unfilled tonnage are reported from other than rail mills, to which have come lately some sizable orders.

Improvement is chiefly in the heavy tonnage products, plates, shapes and bars. Sales remain individually small but numerically somewhat greater. The strict adherence of buyers to week-by-week covering, while not making for satisfactory rolling schedules, lends assurance to the mills that stocks are low.

Among the chief steel consuming industries, the agricultural implement trade promises well, specifications from this course holding close to the gains of recent weeks. Structural steel activity continues at a high rate for midsummer, with expectations that July bookings by some large interests will exceed those of June which was a good month. Demand from automobile builders is disappointing and is not expected to pick up before Aug. 15.

Prices of steel are well maintained in all markets, save that further concessions of $1 and $2 a ton in alloy steels have been secured in the Middle West on some of the more generally used grades.

Fabricated steel awards of 31,000 tons in the week included 6,000 tons for a New York bank and office building and 3,700 tons for a bridge at Panama City, Fla. Pending business was swelled by the addition of 23,000 tons.

Pig iron activity at Cleveland, where sales totaled 50,000 tons, and at New York and Buffalo, where bookings of 15,000 tons and 20,000 tons, respectively, were reported. Some of the buying in the East was at the expence of price, which has reached a level that the trade regards as scraping bottom. Competition in the East has been further accentuated by a reduction of 50c. a ton in the barge rate on pig iron from Buffalo to New York harbor. The Valley market, which has been unusually dull, will be tested by a 5000-ton inquiry for basic iron from an Alliance, Ohio, plant.

EX-PRESIDENT Grover Cleveland once said, "No Investment on earth is so safe, so sure, so certain to enrich its owner as undeveloped realty. I always advise my friends to place their savings in realty near some growing city. There is no such savings bank anywhere."

The rise in real estate values has been the basis of more fortunes than any one other form of investment. Inherently sound, unmindful of every little business flux, real estate progresses steadily, sometimes spectacularly, toward the goal of profit. An Austrian engineer has made a machine which floats on the water and makes electricity from the power of the river flowing beneath it. A conical shaped tube is submerged in the water between two large floats, and at the narrow end of the tube is a water wheel, which drives a small dynamo fixed on a platform above the water.

Peace And Quiet In Soft Coal Fields As Strike Is Continued

Survey Of Charleroi Field Shows Even Peace And Quiet Reigning

Non-Union Mines Continue To Increase Output Steadily, Is Report

By ROBERT L. WIPER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHARLEROI, Pa., July 28.—With the fourth month of the union miners' strike near a close, little development can be seen in the Charleroi field to disturb the even peace and quiet that has been maintained in the communities affected, a survey showed today.

The mines in the district, operating non-union, are producing a constantly increasing quantity of coal. However, the huge bulk of coal produced by the union mines remains at lowest ebb.

There are approximately 16 non-union mines working in this section. Conspicuous among these is the series of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company is operating uninterruptedly in the upper valley, with the Arnold City, Pricedale, Banning and Fayette City shafts producing a large amount of coal.

The Bethlehem Mines Corporation, on the Ellsworth branch, is running three works, the Marianna, Ellsworth and Cokeburg, in the Charleroi region. Preparations are under way to build 1,700 houses at the three mining communities.

The Vesta Coal Company is closing its mines at Denbo, Cal., and Vesta No. 6, preparing to start operations on a non-union scale.

The Vesta is the latest company to join the growing ranks of non-union operators.

There have been reports that Soudan mine, of the Valley Camp Coal Company, will resume operations, but no warranted authority for the statement has been available. Soudan is a large mine, employing approximately 1,500 men regularly. Operation of the mine vitally affects the trade of Charleroi and Monongahela City.

Erect Huge Fence

Recently a huge fence was erected around the Soudan mine property and shaft, and guards located there. This was taken as a surety that Soudan would resume operations soon, but there has been no importation of labor to date.

However, miners formerly employed at the Soudan are strong union adherents. They still are living in company houses at Van Voorhis. The mine is owned by Cleveland interests, stockholders of the Valley Camp Coal Co.

Coal and iron police are being maintained at the Bethlehem mines, and the Pittsburgh Coal Company's works.

New details of state police recently have opened headquarters at North Belle Vernon, Monongahela and Brownsville, but have not been needed.

Importation of negro and foreign labor into this section has been slow for the past three months. Before the strike hundreds of strangers to the valley—and strangers to the coal mining business, were brought here to work in the mines. They seem contented at the present scale and are now regular workers.

Picketing by union men has continued each day at practically every mine in the field.

Further up the river, beyond Brownsville, the non-union mine is more in evidence. Coal production there, however, is slow, retarded by the customary "summer slump".

While police admit that in some of the smaller non-union camps they must be alert for trouble, the bigger mining communities are quiet. The mixing of southern negroes and imported white labor from the South has caused some trouble, but it is not sufficient to reach beyond the communities involved.

River coal tonnage, after showing heavily daily reports for May and June, slumped 30 per cent so far in July, with prospects of a lower average before fall.

Conference For Young People At Rose Point Camp

Annual Meeting Of The Reformed Presbyterian Church To Open August 16

Complete arrangements have been made for the annual Young People's Conference of the Reformed Presbyterian church of the Pittsburgh Presbytery which will open Tuesday, August 16, at the Rose Point Camp on the Slippery Rock and will continue for ten days concluding on August 25.

An interesting program has been arranged to be carried out each day which will be featured by lectures by some of the outstanding speakers of the denomination in Western Pennsylvania, Bible study and various kinds of recreation and entertainment.

The morning session of each day will open with a praise service at 9 o'clock which will be followed by a devotional period and Bible study.

Dr. John Coleman head of the chair of Religious Education at Geneva College will be in charge of the Bible hour. During the Bible study hour a similar Bible study will be conducted for the Junior children with Mrs. A. A. Wylie of Pittsburgh and Mrs. J. J. Reed of New Galilee as instructors. Both Mrs. Wylie and Mrs. Reed are excellent Bible teachers and have had much experience in this work. They plan to carry on this part of the daily program somewhat on the same order as that of the Daily Vacation Bible School.

The afternoons will be devoted to outdoor athletics including swimming, tennis, baseball and volley ball.

Although the conference is sponsored by the Reformed Presbyterian church all the young people and children of the community are invited to attend.

Rev. Paul McCracken is pastor of the Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian church.

Can't Swim Here As Russians Do

(International News Service)

MONONGAHELA, Pa., July 28.—Boys will be boys, it is conceded, but the time honored practice to bathe without the conventional bathing suit will not be excused by railroad detectives here as readily as some other eccentricities of youth. Consequently the officers have decreed that the members of the younger generation must wear some covering while swimming in creeks along railroad lines in this neighborhood.

"If they were going in for a marathon swim, it might be a different thing, you know," one of the officers said. "That way, they would be in the water the greater part of the time, and perhaps have a coating of grease. But as it is, they do more frolicking on the banks in the undraped than they do in swimming. The trains pass near many beaches, and the boys playing on the ground without a suit is not modest, to say the least.

So the officers are going to conduct a campaign against bathing in the nude. They point out that a similar campaign last year brought forth some good results.

Are far as is known, there is only one beach near Monongahela where the boys go in swimming a la nature.

North Carolina Sees Big Tobacco Crop

(International News Service)

RALEIGH, N. C., July 28.—Aroma of freshly-cured bright leaf tobacco soon will fill the summer air long Carolina countrysides, and the Old North State will go about its annual job of producing its share of the world's "yellow gold."

Tobacconists of this section believe that this year's crop will compare with, if not exceed, last year's. Opening dates of the markets of the Middle and Old Belt were fixed recently by the U. S. Tobacco Association in its annual convention at Morehead City, N. C.

The Middle Belt markets will open on September 20, and the Old Belt markets on October 4. The South Carolina, or Border Belt, will open a few weeks earlier, the exact date yet to be fixed definitely.

Exhibits Committee Named For Convention

Homer C. Drake, Chairman of the Exhibits Committee of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association Convention which will be held in New Castle October 12-13-14, announces the following members of his committee: Walter S. Sample, Mrs. M. Kenneth Staley, Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas, Harry G. Gibson, Frank A. Hover and Charles T. Metzler.

This committee will be in charge of the various exhibits which will be made by religious publishing houses at the Cathedral. The place selected for these exhibits are the balconies on either side of the lobby as this will afford the delegates an opportunity to look over this Sabbath School and other religious material, between sessions of the Convention.

Piles Go Quick

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kut Rate, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

WHEAT FARMERS: HERE IS NEWS—

38 BUSHELS

Instead of 20

Washington, Pa.,
Oct. 25, 1926

The American Agricultural Chemical Company,
Buffalo, New York

Dear Sirs:

We have handled "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers continuously for twenty years and have in nearly every case resold to a customer who has once tried them, many of them coming back from year to year without solicitation.

The drilling quality as well as results have been satisfactory. Owing to the bad season the wheat yield in this section was very poor but three of our customers reported yields from 34 to 38 bushels per acre, while the yields where fertilizer was not used did not run over 20 bushels per acre.

Yours very truly,
RUSSEL BROS.

An exception? Not at all. 1739 such cases have been reported to us. In this instance, the increased yields paid for the fertilizer three or four times over. To say nothing of higher grade and better price for the entire crop. Proof that it pays to select fertilizer on its crop-producing record.

"AA QUALITY" Fertilizers assure a higher grade of wheat with the same seed, the same acreage, the same labor. Result, lower production cost for every bushel and a greater margin of profit for you.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL COMPANY
Buffalo Sales Department
129 Lewis Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Look for the "AA QUALITY" seal on every bag of fertilizer. It stands for 60 years of manufacturing experience.

This seal guarantees more than correct chemical analysis—it assures you of proven crop-producing value.

Not scrubbed —not boiled

but the whitest, brightest wash ever!

WHY rub, scrub and boil the life out of clothes when they can be soaked so much whiter?

All you need to do is use Rinso instead of ordinary soap. Even in hard water it gives thick, creamy suds that loosen dirt and stains. And they float off by themselves in the rinsing!

You don't need a washboard. You don't need to age your hands by scrubbing. Rinso itself does most of the work—and gets clothes so much whiter!

So safe that the makers of 30 leading washing machines urge its use. Clothes last longer, keep their colors better, when you use Rinso.

Try it your very next washday. Follow the easy directions on the package.
